Milk Bottle Links Abandoned Baby to Mansfield

Child Found Beneath Tree

Fort Wayne Police Ask Help of Officers Here In Tracing Dairy Label and Laundry Markings.

A four-month-old boy baby found abandoned in a Fort Wayne, Ind., back yard, was linked to Mansfield today by a milk bottle and a milk bottle cap.

Fort Wayne detectives said that the bottle and cap carried the label of the Isaly dairy of Mansfield and may have been dropped near the scene by the person or persons who abandoned the child.

The blue-eyed, sandy-haired boy was found about 2:40 in the morning of one of Fort Wayne's coldest July nights. It lay underneath a cherry tree in the backyard of a home near a Pennsylvania railroad station, Fort Wayne, detectives there said.

Besides the milk bottle and cap, they said, the only clues were a laundry mark on one of the two blankets in which the baby had been wrapped, and the fact that the pupil of its left eye was contracted to about the size of a "pin point."

* * *

Laudries Checked.

The laundry mark on the blanket—"BE"—has been checked through Mansfield laundries by local detectives here. They said, however, that they have been unable to link it to a Mansfield resident.

Fort Wayne police said that physicians there said that the fact that the child's left pupil was contracted was not unusual. They expressed hope it might be possible thereby to check the baby's identity through child-birth records here.

They said that the contraction may have been noted on the child's birth record because such an eye reaction sometimes occurs at childbirth.

* * *

Couple is Seen.

The Indiana detectives sought the aid of Mansfield police in locating the child's parents because the milk bottle and cap, found about one-half a block from the point where the baby was discovered, were believed to have been dropped by a couple reported seen carrying a baby.

Detectives said that the couple may have come from Mansfield via the Pennsylvania railroad and dropped the bottle and cap near the post-office where they were found.

* * *

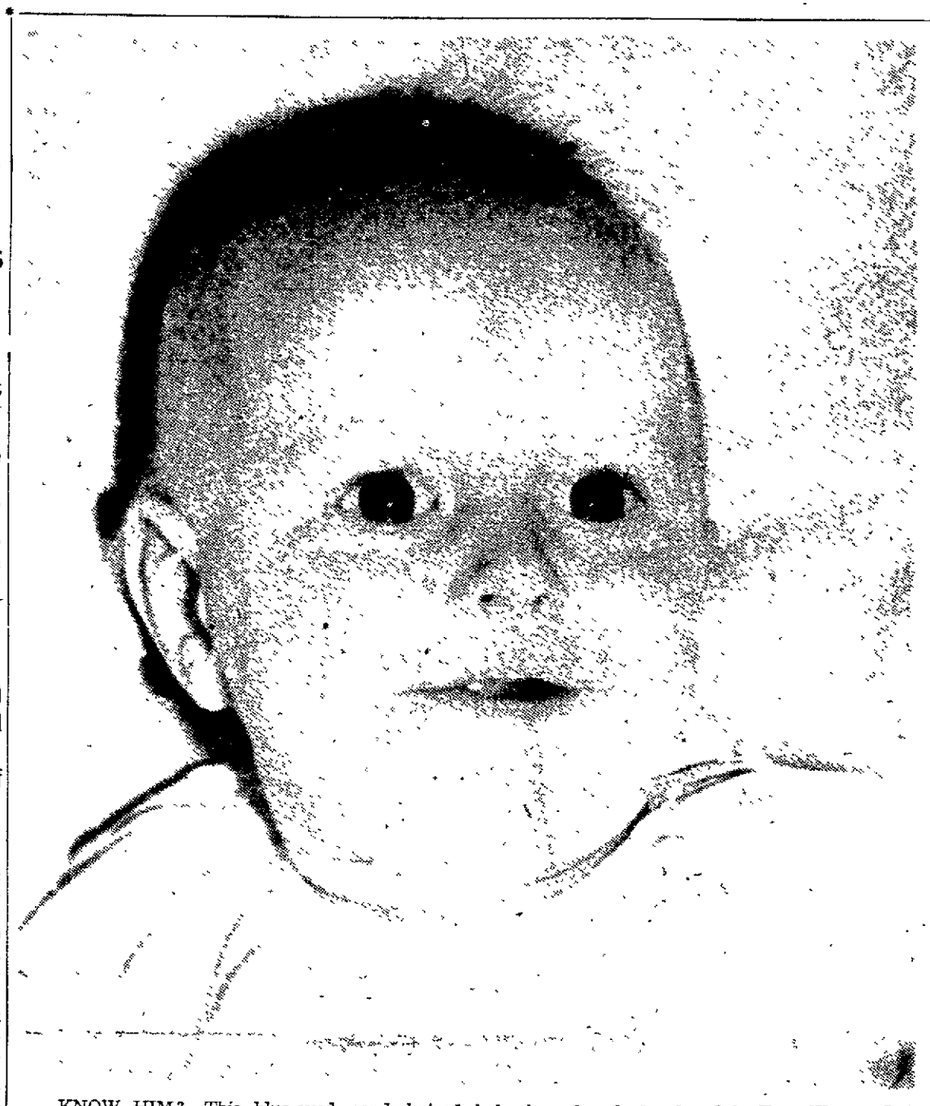
They said that other than the three clues, they have been unable to uncover other evidence which would identify the baby. They said today they are "still working" on the abandoned boy case, as well as the case of a baby girl found abandoned Aug. 7.

The bottle cap was stamped "Isaly Grade 'A' Vitamin 'B' Milk, Mansfield, Ohio." The Isaly company gives a free supply of milk to all new parents.

The Fort Wayne police told the News-Journal that the baby was found July 26, "one of Fort Wayne's coldest July nights." They said the baby had kicked off the two blankets in which it had been wrapped.

The boy was wearing a white cotton dress with crocheted designs on the collar and down the front, said Indiana police. It had also had on a pink wool sweater with pearl buttons down the front, pale blue socks and pink felt booties, they said.

The child is now in the Allen County children's home, they said, where it is reported in good health. The boy weighs about 17 pounds, they said.



KNOW HIM?—This blue-eyed, sandy-haired baby boy, found abandoned in Fort Wayne, Ind., may have Mansfield parents. An Isaly dairy milk bottle and cap were discovered where the baby was found, Fort Wayne police said in asking Mansfield authorities to aid in the month-long effort to find the child's parents. The baby was left in a Fort Wayne back yard about 2:40 in the morning on one of Fort Wayne's "coldest July nights," detectives informed the News-Journal. Local detectives have yet been unable to identify the boy, now in an Indiana children's home.

PRICE CEILING DECISION NEAR

Decontrol Board Lifts Veil of Secrecy Tomorrow on Fate of Controls.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The price decontrol board today continued its all-day sessions under a veil of secrecy in an attempt to reach a decision tomorrow on whether price controls should remain off basic food commodities.

The board has announced that it will reveal tomorrow night whether ceilings will be restored on livestock, grain, dairy products, soybeans and cottonseed products. If it fails to act by midnight Tuesday, these commodities automatically go back under controls.

There was absolutely no hint from the board on what its decision might be and members maintained a strict silence on this subject. Some observers, however, believed that price ceilings would be reimposed on at least some of the commodities.

A board spokesman quoted Chairman Roy L. Thompson as saying that "we've made a good deal of progress, but there are three or four points we haven't made determinations on."

Barring a hitch in present plans, the board's decision will be made public at 7 p. m. (EST) tomorrow. Board members are scheduled to make a nation-wide broadcast two hours later to explain their decision to the public.

131? Well, That's What It Says Here

NEW YORK—(INS)—A confederate flag clutched in his hand and a cigar jammed jauntily in his mouth, Major Edward James Monroe, 131-year-old son of President Monroe, ambled into the offices of Bernarr MacFadden today under his own power and exposed himself to an interview by the New York press.

This astoundingly aged man appeared to be in remarkable physical condition, everything considered. Asked about his formula for longevity, Major Monroe — who has outlived three wives and eleven children—said "I live a clean life."

As to the cigar, he said he didn't smoke much. Gesturing at the one in his mouth, he described it as "a treat."

On the other important subject, Monroe said: "I take a glass of water with a glass of whiskey to make it sociable."

Indicative of how time marches on, one of the younger reporters asked him what manner of flag he was carrying. Monroe gave the young man a brief lecture on the

GIVES WARNING

Stalin Says 'Reaction Front' Has Plans For New War.

LONDON—(INS)—Radio Moscow quoted Premier Stalin today as warning all Russians against an "international reaction front which has plans for a new war."

Stalin's statement was said to have been issued on the first anniversary of the defeat of Japan. He declared:

"Millions of workers throughout the world see as decisive the strength of our state, which is now resisting with success the attempts of international reaction to set ablaze a new war."

MAKES MURDER CHARGE

ONSET, Mass. —(U.P.)— Charles Russell Goodale, 25, Onset naval veteran, will be charged formally today with the murder of pretty Ruth McGurk, 25.

Urey Voices Fear of Atomic Battle

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—Dr. Harold C. Urey, one of the nation's foremost atomic scientists, has warned that the United States must begin immediate preparations for an atomic war unless some form of international control over atomic energy is perfected.

Urey, research director for the army's wartime atomic bomb program, said that failure to provide adequate safeguards for development and use of atomic power inevitably would lead to a worldwide atomic war that would destroy civilization.

PARLEY MOVES IN LOW GEAR

Conference Begins Lengthy Discussion on Division of Treaty Powers.

PARIS—(AP)—The peace conference went into its fourth week in low gear today as the Italian economic committee became involved in a lengthy discussion of how various chapters of the Italian treaty should be divided between it and the political committee.

Committees for the Finnish and Hungarian treaties also began deliberations.

France touched off the discussion with a suggestion that the economic committee include on its agenda article 72, which sets up a conciliation commission in case of disputes over Italian restitution of allied property.

Russia supported the proposal, and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky said it should be adopted as a general principle that all questions "of a predominantly economic nature" should be considered as falling within the committee's scope.

Brazil, Yugoslavia, the United States, Greece, Belgium and White Russia all joined in the debate, agreeing that practically all chapters of the treaty have both economic and political aspects, and that consultation with the political committee was necessary to establish some line of demarcation.

The Hungarian political and territorial committee chose Australian Delegate A. T. Stirling as its vice chairman, and adjourned after deciding Hungary should make a written request to appear before the committee.

M'Kellar Attacks Flood Control Ban

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(U.P.)— Sen. K. D. McKellar, D., Tenn., today urged southern senators and representatives to revolt against presidential curtailment of flood control and rivers and harbors expenditures already given congressional approval.

McKellar, veteran senate president and chairman of the appropriations committee, sent Mr. Truman a long letter protesting and challenging his right to nullify an act of congress.

SPLITS PLANTS

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The war assets administration revealed today it is following a policy of subdividing surplus war plants too big to be operated by a single industry.

Mansfield Majorettes Wow the Legionnaires

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND—The Ashland American Legion band, Harry Higgins Post 88, today protested to the convention band committee here that it was not correctly judged in yesterday's Class B competition. Merle A. Masters, band manager, said that if the judging is not rectified in the final contest at 3 p. m. today he will file a formal protest with state Legion headquarters. Masters contended that marching ability and playing while marching were not considered although the rules provide these two classifications shall account for 50 per cent of the points.

By LARRY MURPHY
News-Journal Staff Writer.

CLEVELAND—Mansfield's 17 delegates and seven alternates to the 28th annual state convention of the American Legion settled down to final business today.

After Saturday evening's gay round of frolic and fun, which lasted until well after Sunday breakfast for some, yesterday was spent largely in meetings and caucuses.

The "smoke-filled room," so dearly beloved by politicians, was the scene of heated discussions and a parade of candidates for state office until well after midnight as Mansfielders met with other delegates of the fifth legon district.

Approximately 50 Mansfielders among nearly 1,150 delegates and guests at the opening session of the convention heard U. S. Senator James Huffman, Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King and Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler urge America to safeguard her security through an adequate program of military and naval preparedness to back up U. S. diplomacy.

During this initial session, a score or more Mansfielders and

NAMES KREBS

Former Dayton Mayor Gets Liquor Board Post.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Frank M. Krebs, former mayor of Dayton, today was appointed to the state liquor control board succeeding Harry A. Mettler of Nelsonville.

The appointment, made by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, is effective today. Krebs will serve until the first Monday in February, 1949.

Mettler resigned from the $4,500-a-year post Aug. 15.

Mansfield Champion Thirteenth In Derby

By HAL CLAWSON
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

AKRON — Minus the national championship, for which he tried so hard, Marlin Kindinger returned to Mansfield today—a beaten but happy boy.

Carrying the colors of the Mansfield News-Journal in the National Soap Box Derby finals here yesterday, 14-year-old Marlin kept the hopes of his boosters alive for two rounds only to lose out by a car's length in the third heat.

With nearly 100,000 spectators jamming every corner of the 1,000-foot Derby Downs speedway, Marlin kept winning until his was one of 13 cars still left in the greatest amateur racing event in the world.

Gaining that select group of the finest racers in the United States really gave his Mansfield backers plenty to cheer about.

Gilbert Klecan, a 14-year old youngster representing the San Diego Journal and smeared from head to foot with graphite, piloted his racer to the national title in the championship race. He edged out Cleveland's Dick Zoller and Jimmy Haney of Beloit, Wis.

Haney was the boy who defeated Kindinger in the third round and then survived the next round to gain the finals.

* * *

First Victory Early.

Marlin's first victory yesterday came early as he competed in the fourth heat of the day against Edwin Ronsani, Hudson, N. Y., and Douglas Swisher, Bay City, Mich.

The Mansfield driver was clock-

MISHAPS HURT EIGHT PERSONS OVER WEEKEND

Two Contestants in 'Cycle Race Suffer Injuries in Collision.

Eight persons were injured, none seriously, in six traffic and one motorcycle race accident over the weekend, traffic and hospital reports revealed today.

Injured were William D. Gogle, 19, of 35 Mohican street, Shelby; Josh Matheny, 9, of 84 Park avenue east; Ivan Arter, 17, Perrysville, R. D. 2; Earl Givens, 24, of Akron; William Peterman, Smithville; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hord and their son, Dale, of Mt. Gilead.

Fogle was treated at General hospital for a fractured right leg after he was struck by a hit-skip motorcycle at the corner of Mulberry and Springmill streets at 1 a. m. Sunday.

Fogle told police that the motorcycle was going north on Mulberry street and that there were two riders on it. Police are investigating.

* * *

Motorcyclists Hurt.

Two contestants in the motorcycle race yesterday off of the West Fourth street road were treated at General hospital for minor injuries which they received in a three-cycle collision during the race.

Earl Givens 24, of Akron, was treated for abrasions and William Peterman 25, of Smithville, for a fractured right thumb. Another rider involved in the accident escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hord, of Mt. Gilead were reported in fair condition in Marion city hospital following a hit-skip accident with an Ohio State Guard truck that occurred near Marion yesterday.

Hord received a fractured left leg and his wife a fractured hip. Their son, Dale, and another woman passenger, whom hospital attachees thought to be his wife, were treated for minor injuries and released.

SOLVE SLAYING OF OHIO SAILOR

Former Murder Suspect Spots Killer, Directs Police Where to Find Him.

OGDEN, Utah — (U.P.) — The hitch-hike slaying of a former Ohio sailor apparently was solved today, as a result of the sharp eyes and quick wits of a man who himself once had been a suspect in the killing.

Detective Capt. Clifford K. Keeter announced that Eliseo Mares, 19, Antonio, Colo., had confessed the murder of Jack D. Stallings, Corning, O., sailor who was slain on his way to the west coast to get married.

Keeter credited Mares' arrest to Iner Wistisen, who was picked up for questioning in the case in mid-July when he was found driving an automobile identified as the one in which Stallings had set out for the west coast.

Wistisen had been released when he produced a bill of sale for the machine but explained that he felt he would remain under suspicion until the real murderer was found.

Wistisen said he kept his eyes open and last Friday his vigilance was rewarded. He spotted Mares, who he said was the one who sold him the car, and trailed him to the home of an Ogden girl. He then notified police and the arrest was made.

After more than 24 hours of questioning, police said Mares confessed accepting a ride last July 24 with Stallings at Sinclair, Wyo. They drove as far as Coalville, Utah, he said, when he decided to shoot him and abandon the body.

DIES IN CRASH LANDING

WEST BRANCH, Mich.—(AP)— Donald L. Bahr was killed and John F. Gerdes was injured critically in the crash of their airplane at Houghton Lake airport yesterday. The men, who lived at Silverton, O., had taken off from Cincinnati in a plane owned by H. A. Campbell of that city. They were attempting a landing when the plane crashed.

Moslem-Hindu Fight Waning After 4 Days

Ghastly Quarrel Over Independence Plan For India Leaves Calcutta Streets Strewn With Corpses; Threat of Epidemic Grows.

CALCUTTA—(AP)—Moslems and Hindus killed each other at a slackened pace today in the stinking streets of Calcutta, which in four days have been strewn with 2,000 to 3,000 corpses.

The situation was the quietest since Friday when the rival factions started the most ghastly riots in Calcutta's turbulent history, quarreling over differences regarding the British proffer of independence.

Sporadic shooting continued. Eerie cries rang through the streets. Bodies were piled here and there, many of them dead four days and picked by vultures. Many were bloated. The danger of an epidemic which might dwarf the present number of casualties mounted by the hour. Several thousands lay wounded.

The food situation worsened as stores remained closed. Looting was rife. Police blotters were filled with accounts of women sadistically raped, mutilated, then butchered or burned with their families.

An official statement said that the situation had "improved." Peace committees attempted to quell the violence.

Police fired during the night on one large mob which swarmed up a city thoroughfare. At least three persons were killed and 20 injured as a result of this encounter.

Moslem crowds continued to swarm into Hindu areas, and Hindu crowds into Moslem areas. Damage to property was expected to run into millions of dollars.

* * *

Oppose British Plan.

The rioting grew out of differences between the Moslems and Hindus on the British proposal for Indian independence. Mahomed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem league, said in Bombay yesterday that the predominantly Hindu Congress party had offered the league five of the 14 seats in the cabinet of the proposed interim government, and that it "is obvious I could not possibly accept."

Jinnah said it was "inconceivable" that British Prime Minister Attlee would allow the congress party "to be installed in power on its own terms by the British government to rule Moslems and minorities with the help of British blood and treasure."

As the food shortage grew the hungrier and poorer Indians could see fruit, vegetables and eggs rotting on railroad platforms and in barred stores.

A Moslem league inauguration of a "direct action" campaign against the British independence program caused many of the stores to shut in a strike; the others shut when

25 OHIO CITIES SEND DELEGATES

Crowd in Excess of 4,000 Enjoys Merrymaking at GBU Celebration.

Delegations from 25 Ohio cities converged on the GBU park yesterday to help the Mansfield Greater Beneficial Union celebrate the 30th anniversary of the founding of District 474.

An estimated crowd of more than 4,000 participated in the merry-making which started at 7 a. m. Sunday and continued until one o'clock this morning. GBU members came to the celebration from as far as New Castle, Penn., and Detroit, Mich.

Cleveland's delegation of 250 persons was the largest outside group. Akron sent 220 and Barberton 125.

The only persons in the huge gathering who were among the original founders on Aug. 16, 1916, were Mr. and Mrs. John Tesch, 303 Third avenue, and George Bauer, Bauer road.

The Mansfield fraternity has grown from 15 members to the present enrollment of 400

Included in the entertainment program was dancing, softball, bowling, eating and drinking. Mansfielder E. W. Davis won the top prize, of a breakfast table and four chairs.

Dancing started at 2 and continued until 11 p. m. Square dancing high-lighted the evening's program.

In the softball feature, the Mansfield Sons of Herman nine swamped Akron GBU, 15 to 5.

PLANE OVERDUE

Nothing Heard After Army Craft Reports Attack.

TRIESTE —(AP)— An American army plane enroute from Vienna to Udine was hours overdue today and the last message from the plane said tracer bullets were streaking past it.

This came a day after official disclosure that another American transport flying the same Austria-Italy route was forced down Aug 9 in Yugoslavia by Yugoslav fighter planes which fired bursts of machine gun fire into it, wounding a passenger.

The plane overdue today was assigned to the European war transport service.

TIJUANA BURNING

SAVES LIVES

Village Policeman Prevents Theater Disaster.

MANKATO, Minn.—(AP)—A village policeman was hailed today as a cool-headed hero who possibly saved many lives during tornadoes which struck two communities Saturday night, killing six persons and injuring about 75.

As the twister approached Wells, Minn., Patrolman Arthur Danks was standing in front of the village theater. He ordered the doors closed and then asked the 400 patrons in the auditorium to remain seated. The tornado swept along the three-block main street, damaging every building. The rear part of the theater roof collapsed, but no one was injured.

Truman Must Work, But Not Too Hard

QUONSET POINT, R. I.—(U.P.)— White House business caught up with President Truman today, but there wasn't enough of it to interfere seriously with his vacation cruise along the Atlantic coast.

The presidential yacht Williamsburg was docked at the naval air station here for the first shore stop since Mr. Truman left Washington Friday afternoon on a 17-day trip. A mail pouch from Washington was taken aboard the vessel, but it was asserted that the president's work would be held to a minimum.

Washington Letter

—By Jane Eads

WASHINGTON — Hand-picked agricultural missions are being sent to the Philippines and China by the U. S. Departments of State and Agriculture.

The missions, sent at the invitation of the two countries, expect to be gone about five months. Another such agricultural mission is already at work in the Middle East.

Members of the missions will collaborate with the agricultural scientists, educators and administrators of the two governments. Later they expect to give advice on the formation of national agricultural programs and what is needed to make them workable.

In both instances the missions will "determine advisability of immediate actions which might be taken on emergency problems in order to restore the war-damaged agricultural economy of the countries."

The agricultural personnel is selected by (take a deep breath) the Technical Collagoration Branch of the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations, Department of Agriculture, in colaboration with the Department of State and the host governments.

* * *

THE mission to the Philippines will be headed by Leland Everett Call, dean of agriculture and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station Kansas State college. Also announced as a member of this group is John H Beaumont, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Hawaii.

Dr. Claude Burton Hutchison vice president of the University of California and dean of the College of Agriculture, heads the Chinese mission. His activities abroad have won him many awards. From Czechoslovakia he has received the Order of the White Lion; from Belgium the Agricultural Decoration, first class, and the Croix D'Officer du Merite Agricole.

Other members of the Mission will include authorities in agricultural economics, agricultural organization and administration and persons well acquainted with work in silk, tea, tung oil, carpet wool, soybean and fish production, agricultural and chemical engineering, credit and market problems and extension work.

In addition to many other foreign students and observers who come to this country to learn the American way of getting things done, 40 French farmers are here now learning our techniques.

The State Department reports they have a background of practical farm experience in their own country, an education equivalent to a high school course and a working knowledge of English or at least the facility to acquire it. Their ages range from 18 to 25 years.

* * *

TRAVELING expenses are provided by the French government. This government gives them a small monthly allowance plus board and room while working on the farms or in offices.

They were selected by the Confederation Generale de L'Agricultural Cooperative of France, the Union de Cooperatives, in conjunction with the National Farmers Union and National Cooperatives Inc. of this country, organized the program.

All set to tackle the first grade with determination is the tyke in the wool reversible with cotton-twill lining.

Two Families Are Too Shy To Meet

By EMILY POST

"Our daughter became engaged almost a month ago. Her fiance's family are strangers to us, although they live here in the same town. They have not made any effort to see us—a courtesy which I believe is their obligation, especially since they have known for a year that this engagement was coming.

"We would like to have them know us, and vice versa. They have been so affectionately welcoming to our daughter, she says they can't possibly mean to be unfriendly to us. Even so they never have said a word about coming to see us! Is there anything you can suggest that I might do to encourage our meeting?"

Although it is definitely the obligation of the man's family to call upon the family of the girl, surprisingly few people know this rule. I think it very likely they are wondering why you have not been to see them! In any case, it is much better to break the ice than allow it to become increasingly solid. Instead of formally leaving cards on her, my suggestion is that you take the first step by calling his mother on the telephone and asking her to come for tea.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: What can I do to impress my friends and relatives that I prefer to remain "Mrs. William Jones"? My husband died within the year and gradually everyone is addressing me as "Mrs. Mary Jones" and I don't like it. I am not a professional person so there is not that excuse for the "Mrs Mary."

Answer: Emphasize the name of "Mrs. William Jones" wherever possible—not only on your visiting cards which you can leave more than you ordinarily would, but by having address stickers made and put on every envelope you send out. This also would be one occasion when it would be practical to write on "informals" whenever possible.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: If a young couple elopes, who should send out the announcements — the bride's family or the bridegroom's?

Answer: The bride's family.

Household Hints

Corn flakes make especially nice crumbs because of their color, flavor and crispness For fine crumbs place corn flakes in clean tea towel or paper and crush with a rolling pin. For coarse crumbs, wrap loosely in towel, then squeeze the towel.

Plain vegetable or fruit salad for 4 becomes generous servings for 7 or 8 when added to a package of gelatin dissolved in 2 cups of boiling water.

Remember when making any pear salad, that fresh peeled pears, like apples and bananas need a sprinkling of lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Grapefruit or orange juice will work equally well if you're short on lemons.

NEW YORK NOCTURNE (By T. Weatherly) . . . This is one without a blond . . . For a change. . . . There isn't even a brunette or a redhead in it . . . Just four male musicians. . . . Divided up this way. . . Three of them were members of a swanky night club band. . . . Playing on East 61st street. . . . The fourth one was playing a violin alone. . . On the corner of Madison avenue and 57th street. . . . He was old, genteel and pathetic looking. . . . The bandsmen were young, dinner-jacketed and debonair. . . . Laughing and joking. . . . They strolled southward on Madison. . . . Suddenly, as they came abreast of the old street player. . . . Their laughter died. . . . But they kept strolling. . . . That is, for a step or two. . . . Then, without a word to each other . . . The three of them . . . Turned in their tracks . . Fished in their pockets . . . And deposited the contents . . . Into the old man's hat . . . Which was lying on the sidewalk. . . . That's all. . . . But some night . . . I'm going in to listen to that band . . Because it must be a good one.

James S. Bolan, former commissioner of New York City, an old friend, is perhaps the happiest man in Manhattan. Retired on a handsome pension, head of the Bolan Agency, a private detective organization patronized by hotels, insurance companies, banks and other sterling corporations, he started, half as a hobby, the Bolan Academy, in his headquarters, at 280 Madison avenue. His plan was to teach investigative work for men and women by mail, with a placement bureau for his graduates. The reaction has been rather amazing. Approved by the Veterans Administration under the GI Bill of Rights, the academy drew a heavy male response. But to Bolan's surprise, women are revealing a tremendous zeal to become private investigators. . . . "Naturally—they're born snoopers," I said. But Jim shrugged that off. "No, these are serious and definitely out to make a profession of it." So he enlisted former Director of the Bureau of Policewomen of New York, Mary A. Sullivan, to handle the co-eds' courses.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—The recent observations of Lindsay C. Warren, the comptroller general of the United States, before the Mead committee, in the course of the Garsson inquiry, directs attention to some interesting collateral information.

As a refresher, it may be recalled that Mr. Warren discussed government officials and employes and officers of the army who left the government service for employment on better terms with private interests with which they had had official dealings on behalf of the government. Mr. Warren deplored this practice.

* * *

Wallace O. Heinze was employed by the government as director of the Small War Plants corporation and in that capacity exerted himself to get contracts from the materiel command of the army air forces for 5,000 pneumatic life saving devices for the International Latex corporation at a price which the army service forces regarded as excessive.

* * *

Brig.-Gen. Albert Browning, director of purchases of the army service forces, reported to the under-secretary of war on April 19, 1944, that on Feb. 25, 1943, the materiel command received from smaller war plants a communication certifying International Latex as a bidder on 5,000 rafts at $125 each. This figure was not acceptable to the army and International and others later submitted further bids. International's price now dropped to $101, the highest of the lot.

General Browning reported to the under-secretary that Heinze, a few days later, telephoned Wright field at Dayton, O., where the procurement of these rafts was being handled, insisting on a contract for 5,000 rafts for International Latex. The army still refused to take the contract.

General Browning wrote for the record and smaller war plants then took over the deal and gave International a contract for 5,000 units at $85 each. He said International's final, adjusted price was $72, and that this figure was the highest of six orders with the exception of one other, by a much smaller company having only 14 employes at the time. This was the Anderson Rubber company, which quoted the same price.

Having related the incidents and reported the pressure from Heinze, General Browning informed the war department, officially, that, a few months later, in Sept. 1943, Heinze quit the government and became general manager of the company whose interests he had so vigorously advanced. Heinze is now listed as vice president and general manager of International Latex, with a plant at Dover, Del.

His salary as a government official was about $8,000 a year. He has refused to talk but doubtless could be required to tell the facts by the Mead committee, including the salary offered by International to induce him to leave the government.

Abraham N. Spanel, the president of the International Latex, born in Russia, is an important contributor to the propaganda of the New Deal, notably Henry Wallace, in the form of a program of paid advertisements in a large list of newspapers, consisting of political material. Heinze formerly operated in Hollywood and was, I understand, a tax consultant for movie actors and magnates.

Col. Phillips W. Smith, of the war department, Washington, stated that when he was in Europe he was told by Maj. Mathew J. Fox, also formerly of the smaller war plants, that there was "White House pressure" behind International's successful efforts to get contracts at maximum prices.

He said Major Fox, a reserve officer, had formerly been connected with Universal Pictures in Hollywood. Charles G. Bolte, the chairman of the Political Association of War Veterans, called the American Veterans' Committee, recently identified "Mathew Fox," listed as a donor of $1,000 to the AVC as "Mathew Fox of Universal Pictures."

Although International was classified as a small corporation, it appears to be rich. It has sales offices in the Empire State building, New York, and other offices in Montreal and London.

There is a subsidiary called American Latex company and still another company operates under patents controlled by Mr. Spanel, who is a man of large wealth. There is also a Spanel Foundation, described as a non-profit organization, devoted to "religious, charitable and scientific purposes."

The "foundation" is a rich man's tax-gadget, now very popular among millionaires.

BERLIN—(AP)—Germany's fraulein have a new idol in Bully Buhlan, pale and fragile, 22-year-old German counterpart of Frank Sinatra.

There was no dancing in the aisles when Bully began singing last spring.

"The girls were too busy chasing chocolate bars and most of the aisles were buried under debris," explains Bully ruefully with a boyish grin, and, "I got letters from angry men telling me to go out and take a training course for rebuilding. Now the women tell me of their broken hearts."

There is a good deal of Sinatra in Bully: The same youthful timid approach: the same feeling of sincerity in every song: the same contrast between a bashful, nice-looking boy and a voice which is more alluring to the fraulein than American canned goods.

* * *

"I guess about the only difference between Frankie and me is that he looks hungry and I am hungry," Bully grins.

* * *

"This sort of thing is all right for the present," says Bully pointing to a huge pile of mail received after one of his radio Berlin broadcasts, "but you cannot rely on a bunch of adoring women forever. Give me a good business any day."

Although Bully sings before capacity audiences to high waves of applause he has no illusions about German conversion to a liking for American jazz.

"Only last August," explains Bully, "the people still spoke of 'Negroid' music. It'll take years before we Germans realize that American jazz and swing expresses the music of this age as the Strauss waltz expressed the Victorian period."

Considering the current furor over the young man with the "sexy eyebrows"—as one fraulein described him—Bully may be wrong.

Rain Mars Picnic of Tappan Workers

Rain Saturday afternoon marred some of the festivities as 2,800 employes and their families attended the annual Tappan Stove company picnic at Chippewa lake.

Thirty prizes were awarded in contests designed for men, women and children. The "kids" had the most fun on a unique penny hunt. A special train transported 450 picnickers to and from the all-day affair.

EIGHT RICHLAND BANKS NAMED DEPOSITORIES

Institutions Are Approved For Deposit of $1,785,000 in Next Two Years.

Eight Richland county private banking institutions were approved today by county commissioners as depositories for active county funds to a maximum of $1,785,000 in the next two years.

Names of the banks and the amount of county money they may keep on deposit beginning Saturday are:

Farmers Bank of Bellville, $100,000; Lucas State Bank, $60,000; Farmers Savings and Trust bank of Mansfield, $500,000; Richland Trust company of Mansfield, $300,000; First National Bank of Shelby, $100,000; Citizens National Bank and Trust company of Mansfield, $600,000; Shiloh Savings bank, $25,000; and Citizens Bank of Shelby, $100,000.

The amounts were approved on bids from the institution and compare with the following amounts in effect during the past two years:

Farmers Bank of Bellville, $35,000; Lucas State Bank, $50,000; Farmers Savings and Trust bank of Mansfield, $300,000; Richland Trust company of Mansfield, $300,000; First National Bank of Shelby, $100,000; Citizens National Bank and Trust company of Mansfield, $300,000; Shiloh Savings Bank, $25,000; and Citizens Bank of Shelby, $100,000.

DEATH STRIKES AS HE WALKS

Retired Contractor Stricken on Way to Home of Daughter.

Charles A. Cashall, 76, left his home at 196 South Franklin avenue early Monday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Harry Lantz, 254 South Mulberry street.

As he walked near Lexington and South Main, he was stricken and died before medical aid could be given.

A retired building contractor, Mr. Cashall was born near Mansfield Oct. 28, 1870. He leaves a son, J. R. Cashall of Lexington; a daughter, Mrs. Lantz; a sister, Miss Sadie Cashall of Mansfield; and nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Mr. Cashall was a member of the First Methodist church.

The body was taken to the Wappner funeral home. Services will be held there Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. Rev. C. W. Stoneburner, pastor of First Methodist church, will have charge. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

WAR VET DIES

Henry Puder, 79, Served in Spanish Conflict.

Henry Puder, 79, veteran of the Spanish-American War, died Sunday morning at his home on Belmont avenue. He had been ill several weeks.

Born in Germany Aug. 26, 1866, Mr. Puder came to Mansfield 55 years ago. He was a retired employe of the Ohio Brass company and was a member of the Knights and Ladies of Security.

His wife, Nettie Puder, is his only survivor.

Services will be held at the Wappner funeral home Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. in charge of Rev. Earl E. Lee and Charles Dick Camp No. 17, United Spanish War Veterans. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Ten Request Citizenship

Preliminary examination of 10 Mansfield persons who are looking forward to final grants of citizenship next November will be made by an inspector of the U. S. bureau of immigration and naturalization in common pleas court tomorrow.

Petitions for citizenship will be filed tomorrow in sessions beginning at 8:30 a. m. and lasting most of the day, Clerk of Courts Howard Wenning reported.

Applying for citizenship are: Rushdi Shaban, 224 North Main street; Theodore Chola, 261 Bowman street; Irene Schiler, 353 Shepard road; Louise Betz, 352 Wood street; Rachel Sudom, 415 Shepard road; Stella Gersohn, 105 East Fourth street; Nicholaus Gerber, 507 Parkview street; Adam Neider, 103 Marion avenue; Paul Edward Schambera, 360 West Sixth street; Emmaline Paleologos, 322 Bowman street.

5 Killed, 24 Hurt In Auto-Bus Wreck

OLD ORCHARD, Me. —(UP)— Five persons were killed and 24 others were injured last night when an automobile collided head-on with a bus on a curve near here.

Police said 11 persons, six adults and five children were riding in the automobile. Eighteen passengers were riding in the bus, en route from Manchester to Portland. None of the bus passengers were injured seriously.

TWO BOYS FLEE DETENTION HOME

Youths Escape Night Before Arraignment in Burglaries From Store.

Two boys, aged 14 and 15, being held in connection with grocery and sporting store burglaries, escaped from the detention home last night, police reported.

The 14-year-old lives on North Main street while the 15-year-old lives on East Sixth street.

Detectives said the boys had confessed stealing $120 from the Spitaleri grocery store, North Diamond street, and two rifles, two tennis rackets and $3 in cash from the Jones Sport Goods store, North Mulberry street.

The pair were to have been arraigned in juvenile court this morning on charges of breaking and entering along with a 17-year-old East Sixth street boy who said he took part in the grocery store theft.

Detectives said they recovered $43 of the stolen cash and the rifles and tennis rackets, plus six cartons of cigarets and some candy taken from the grocery store.

Officers said that the 14 and 15 year olds split the money from the grocery store and used it to buy clothes.

UPHOLDS SENTENCES

SAPPORO, Hokkaido —(UP)— The commanding officer of the 11th Air Force division, Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Swing, today upheld the death sentences of T/5 Marion R. Brown, 19, Danville, Ala., and Pfc. Gerald N. Hayes, 20, Lakewood, N. J., for kidnaping and raping a Japanese girl June 16. A final decision is up to President Truman, it was announced.

Visitor Comes Looking For Personality Girls

A visitor with personality came to Mansfield today seeking other "average American girls with personality."

Miss Dorothy Rotenhagen, supervisor of hostess selection for Trans-World Airlines, was at the Mansfield-Leland hotel to interview applicants for positions as hostesses.

"A girl need not be beautiful to be an airline hostess. We want average American girls with a good personality," she explained.

"We don't worry too much about the girls' weight either, because the rigid eight-weeks self-improvement course which all of those accepted go through will take care of pounds that don't look good and put them on where they will do the most good."

She was asked why girls seek to become hostesses.

"Most girls go into it because they love to travel or they don't want to sit in an office. They want to get out and meet people," she replied.

* * *

First Visit Here.

"After only three months' of service on domestic routes the girls may apply for assignment to one of the international routes," Miss Rotenhagen explained.

"TWA discontinued its training school last May 1 but we select the girls for training and accept them upon graduation from the McConnell Hostess Training school."

Miss Rotenhagen is TWAs' first representative to visit Mansfield seeking girls for hostess training.

* * *

Must Be Single.

"We have to keep looking for new hostesses because the girls will get married and one of our requirements are that a girl be single," she pointed out.

To be eligible, a girl must be between 21 and 28, five feet two inches to five feet six inches tall, and in general good health. If not a registered nurse, she should have one year of college or three years of experience in business, such as a receptionist.

Girls unable to contact Miss Rotenhager at the Mansfield-Leland may write to her at 10 Richards road, Kansas City, Mo.

THREE REPORT STREET ATTACKS

Incidents on North Mulberry and Main Send Police on Hunt.

Reports of attacks of three pedestrians sent police today on a hunt for the ruffians.

Officers were told that the attacks occurred early Sunday on North Mulberry and North Main streets.

One man reported he was hit on the head but police said that the only thing stolen was a wallet containing no money.

Charles Arnold, of 166 Burns avenue, told police that a man "jumped" him from the rear on North Mulberry street about 1:30 a. m. and took his billfold.

Charles Stoops, of Benedict avenue, and James Courtney, 142 North Adams street, said they were attacked on North Mulberry street by two men about 3:45 a. m. and 5 a. m. Police said that Stoops was "slugged" but required no medical treatment. Nothing was stolen from the two men.

CITY CHOSEN

DAV Picks Mansfield For 1947 State Convention.

Mansfield was chosen as the site of the 1947 convention of the Ohio Department of Disabled American Veterans at the 25th annual convention yesterday in Columbus.

Moton Smith, commander of the Mansfield DAV, was a delegate.

Charles R. Click of Dayton was elected state commander. Albert L. Croy of Ohio City, senior vice commander; Raymond L. Oliver of East Liverpool, junior vice commander.

WHITE WRECKS AGAIN

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(UP)—Producer George White, 53, scheduled to appear in court Friday in connection with a fatal automobile mishap, has been involved in a second accident in which he and a friend were injured, the California highway patrol reported today.

SEE SON DROWN

TOLEDO —(AP)— Six-year-old Robert Hafner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Hafner of Terre Haute, Ind., drowned in Silica park quarry yesterday. Witnesses said the boy stepped into deep water while attempting to retrive a toy sailboat and disappeared from sight of his parents who were sunbathing on the shore.

Laff-a-Day

"It was a perfectly balanced meal, dear. The hamburgers and the cake weighed about the same!"

TALLER MORNING GLORY—

Well, we're off! The tallest-morning-glory-plant race received a big boost today from Mrs. Lee Wendland, Olivesburg road. She informed The News-Journal she has a vine growing up the side of her front porch which reaches 14 feet, 11 inches above the ground. Color? "Why it's heavenly blue and it's just beautiful," she said. Yesterday the News-Journal published a story that William Sturges, 238 Davis road, has a vine growing 12 feet, three inches high.

* * *

LARGE ZINNIA—

Recent reports of large morning glory and hollyhock plants have prompted another Mansfield resident to report what she believes is a record zinnia plant. The zinnia growing along her walk has nine blooms and seven buds. The largest bloom measures six inches in diameter, while two others are five inches in diameter. The smaller blooms are not fully developed but are still increasing in size. No special care was given the plant, Mrs. Wiles said.

* * *

NOT SUCH A BIG CHANCE—

C. S. Fernyak, secretary of the Kiwanis club, is a cautious man. In sending out announcements of the Kiwanis club meeting Thursday at 11:50 a. m. in the Mansfield-Leland, Fernyak very factually announces that Charles H. Huston is chairman and James R. (Bud) Harrington the speaker. But when it comes to speculating about Bud's subject, Fernyak lets himself out on just the shortest kind of a limb. He wrote the membership: "Not announced. (But we bet it will have something to do with aviation, airports, or the like.)"

* * *

APPLE TREE BLOOMS AGAIN

Even apple trees are heeding the call for increased food production. A tree on Mont Simmons farm, Route 97, south of Mansfield, has its usual crop of apples but the tree broke out in bloom again last week. However, cold weather is expected to kill the blooms before another crop of apples is produced. It is the second time that Simmons has witnessed the phenomenom in his 20 years of apple growing.

Put-In-Bay's Last Excursion Monday

The last excursion of the season, from Sandusky to Detroit, on the big steamer Put-in-Bay will be held next Monday. The ship will leave the Big Four Dock in Sandusky at 8:30 a. m. for a five-and-one-half hour ride through Lake Erie islands and to Detroit. The vessel will reach Detroit at 2 p. m. During a four-hour lay over there passengers may visit points of interest.

The big boat will leave Detroit from the foot of First Street at 6 p. m. and arrive in Sandusky about 11 p. m.

Its lunch counters, cafeteria, dining-room and rathskeller will be open during the trip. Dancing on the boat will be to the music of Finzell's Marine orchestra.

25 CARPENTERS CALL 'HOLIDAY' IN WAGE ROW

Union Official Keeps Mum, But Contractor Willing to Hire Replacements.

Completion of seventy-five homes for veterans in the Vetsville project on U. S. Route 30 near Mifflin was held up for an indefinite period today when approximately 25 carpenters failed to report for work, spokesmen for W. B. Gibson company, contractors, reported.

The failure to report for work was described as a "holiday" that began Friday at 3 p. m. over the non-payment of retroactive pay. The carpenters usually work until 5 p. m. each day.

Thomas Geddes, secretary of Carpenters Local 735, refused to discuss the matter or to admit there was a walkout, but W. K. Mackey, Gibson company manager, said the carpenters were disgruntled over failure of "the government" to approve a wage raise of some 14½ cents per hour and retroactive pay.

* * *

Free of Picketing.

"It's not a technical strike because there's no picketing and we'd be allowed to hire any carpenters who will report for work. But none are reporting," Mackey said.

"The Gibson company is entirely willing to make both the wage raise and the retroactive payments but it must have the approval of the government first," Mackey stated.

Max Popernick, project engineer for the Gibson company, said he understood the carpenters representatives and a labor representative of the FPHA were negotiating today to settle the dispute.

BRIDGES RAPS TRUMAN BUDGET

Senator Claims Taxpayers Face 'Rude and Costly Awakening' in Future.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) declared today that the nation's 40,000,000 taxpayers "face a rude and costly awakening if they rely on the Truman administration to protect their pocketbooks.

The New Hampshire senator, ranking Republican on the senate appropriations committee, characterized the president's revised 1947 budget as "an experiment in profligacy."

Expressing his views in a statement, Bridges pounced particularly on Mr. Truman's declaration; when he revised the budget on Aug. 4, that "budgetary policies have become a major weapon to fight the kind of 'boom and bust' which followed World War I."

What kind of double-talk is the president feeding the American people?" Bridges asked.

"Government wage policies, inventory hoarding by government corporations, restraints on production through OPA and other devices, super taxation of private instruments of production and bureaucratic siphoning of private production income for non-productive New Deal experiments are among the worst inflationary techniques that could be foisted on a tolerant public. Yet the president says his policy is anti-inflationary. This is truly remarkable reasoning," the senator added.

In his Aug. 4 budget review the president reported total budget expenditures for fiscal 1947 were then estimated at 41.5 billion dollars and net receipts at 39.6 billions, leaving an estimated budget deficit of 1.9 billions.

"The situation has changed materially since the January budget was issued," the president commented. "Both expenditures and revenues are higher than were estimated then. The January budget estimated a deficit of 4.5 billion dollars for the fiscal year 1947. I now expect a deficit of less than half that amount."

Bridges commented that "although income for fiscal 1947 is now estimated to be $39-6 billions instead of $31.5 billion estimated in January, 1946, the president clings to the old New Deal habit of deficits, predicting a net deficit of $1.9 billion in 1947."

"With $8 billion of estimated new revenue that he didn't have in January of this year, he still can't balance the budget. In my judgment this is a shocking state of affairs.

"Despite honeyed phrases to the contrary," Bridges continued, "the president has demonstrated neither the real desire or even ability to satisfy citizen demands that the federal budget be balanced. Is our government to continue one of squandermania?"

GAS SUPPLY FAILS

VIENNA —(INS)— The last motorized vehicles still running in the western zones of Austria were expected to grind to a stop within a few days for lack of gasoline, American army officers said the shortage stemmed from Russia's refusal to provide petroleum from the Zisterdorf oil fields, which the Soviet claims as a reparations prize.

Mansfield, Madison, Shelby, Bellville Open Grid Drills

All Area Schools Start Tomorrow

By HAL CLAWSON

That old familiar tune that's heard about this time every year comes into reality again starting tomorrow. And that tune is the result of toe meeting leather.

All four high school teams in Richland county will get their fall practice underway Tuesday, the first day allowed under the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic association.

By this afternoon all teams were to have been issued their equipment and all preliminary details were to be taken care of so that the squads could get off fast.

Mansfiield high will have out the largest squad with 100 pigskin candidates expected to report to Coach Paul Snyder and his aides at 8 a. m. tomorrow.

The Tygers will drill twice daily until the start of school with the afternoon practice getting underway at 6 p. m.

Out at Madison high, nearly 70 boys are slated to report to Coach Jeff DeHaven tomorrow morning with practices also scheduled for the afternoon until school opens.

Equipment was issued Friday and Saturday to 63 prospects and a few more may get their grid togs today.

Bill Kipcial, former Madison teacher and assistant coach, will be back from the army to take over his old job. He'll handle the reserves.

Al Fendrick makes his debut as Shelby high grid mentor when he sends his Shelby high Whippets through their initial drills tomorrow.

The former Madison coach takes over the duties handled last year by Larry Swankhammer. The latter will be assistant this fall.

Down at Bellville, Coach Orville Kibler will get his Blue Jays' grid squad out.

Elsewhere in this area the following schools will start drills tomorrow: Galion, Ashland, Mt. Gilead, Crestline, Ashland, New London, Fredericktown and Loudonville.

Al Pesek will have 55 gridders out tomorrow morning at Bucyrus . . . Assisting him will be Don Burkey . . . The Redmen face a nine-game schedule.

Grays Defeat Post 72, 6-4

Merle Leedy pitched the Mansfield Grays to their twelfth victory of the season yesterday afternoon at Tillman park defeating the Legion Post 72 nine, 6-4.

He scattered seven hits over the nine innings to gain his seven win of the season in eight starts.

The winners got to Carter and Stokes for nine hits with a big fifth inning sending over four runs.

Merchants Win Tenth, 9-1

NEW LONDON — The New London Merchants easily annexed their tenth win here Sunday afternoon against the Sandusky Athletics 9-1, but it was not until the ninth inning that a combination of an error, a long fly and a walk netted the visitors their only tally. Daron held Sandusky to three scattered hits while Sandusky used three hurlers to attempt to stop New London.

New London will be after another win Wednesday morning when they met Litchfield in the first game of the Lorain county fair at Wellington.

Next Sunday, they meet Monroeville here at 1:30 and Grafton at 3:15 and on Labor Day wind up the three game tourney here.

Medwick Resting After Beaning

NEW YORK — (UP) — Outfielder Joe Medwick, 35, recently signed by the Brooklyn Dodgers as pinch-hitting insurance for the National league stretch drive, was reported "in comfortable condition" at Peck Memorial hospital today after the second serious "beaning" of his 15-year big league career.

Pinch hitting in the seventh inning of yesterday's game with the Phillies, Medwick was unable to duck away from a wild curve ball thrown by Lefty Frank Hoerst and it hit him near the left ear. He was removed on a stretcher and lost consciousness in the clubhouse at Ebbets field.

1,500 COMPETING IN GRAND AMERICAN

VANDALIA, O — (UP)— The 1946 Grand American Trap-Shooting tournament opened today with a field of more than 1,500 of the nation's best shots ready to test their trigger fingers along the quarter-mile firing line

Shotguns will roar on the American Trapshooting association's new 22-trap line for six days and more than 1,000,000 clay pigeons are expected to be sacrificed to determine the best shooters in the United States.

Racing Strike To End Tuesday

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Race horse owners and trainers filed entries today for the resumption of Thistle Down's meeting in suburban North Randall tomorrow to end an eight-day strike against a rule banning an "also eligible" list.

Racing Secretary Charles F. Henry said that all originally scheduled handicaps would stand.

The horsemen, who called a halt to racing Aug. 10 after seven days of the meet, agreed to give in to regulations but said they would continue the fight through the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective association.

Play-For-Pay Golfers Begin Quest For National Title

By LAWTON CARVER

PORTLAND, Ore. — (INS) — Defending Champion Byron Nelson and a herd of more than 100 other golfers trampled over the Portland Country club layout today on the first round of the annual stampede known as the national professional championship.

Nelson, who has won twice and reached the finals on three other occasions in the last six years, was ranked by his colleagues among the players to beat.

* * *

* * *

Nearly every golfer in the land with even the faintest claim to professional fame was on hand for the week-long tussle that brings out all the best and worst in a man, including reverberating blowups known as the leaping meemies.

First they play 18 holes today and tomorrow to qualify, then the 64 survivors mangle each other into submission in two separate 18-hole match play rounds Wednesday, reducing the field to 16 players for 36-hole match play rounds through next Sunday.

If that isn't enough, you can add that the course has been made tougher and the citizens wild-eyed. Portland is a comparative newcomer to the big-time golf craze and no one aims to miss the show.

Aside from everything else, the national professional golf championship this year is a civic proposition more so than ever before perhaps because Oregon has in the last few years decided to do a little horn blowing.

GUY LOMBARDO WINS MOTORBOAT RACES

RED BANK, N. J. — (UP) — Orchestra leader Guy Lombardo became a heavy favorite today to win the gold cup races at Detroit on Labor day after scoring an impressive straight-heat victory yesterday in the national motorboat sweepstakes.

Handling Tempo VI as deftly as he directs his bands, Lombardo led all the way. He won the first heat Saturday, and took the other two yesterday over a 15 mile course on the North Shrewsbury river.

Win Women's Net Titles

Two more city tennis titles were decided yesterday afternoon at Woodlawn tennis club.

Ruth Isham repeated as women's single champion defeating Mary Saprano, 6-1, 6-4. Both players also met in the finals last year.

Mrs. Saprano teamed up with Vi Gregoria and to win the women's doubles title with straight set triumphs over Mrs. Isham and Mary Ettinger, 6-2, 6-3.

Mary Ettinger and Bill Johnson reached the finals of the mixed doubles play with a 6-4, 6-2 win over Mary Saprano and Jay Banks.

In a men's singles of the city tourney, Bourns received a default from Gerth.

Three first round matches of the men's singles are holding up play.

In the Woodlawn tennis club tournament, Wattie Slabaugh and Ruhland Isaly reached the finals of the men's singles and will meet next Sunday for the club title.

Slaubaugh turned back Lowell Bourns, 6-3, 6-2 while Isaly was defeating Charles Nail, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

Close Battle Seen For NL's 'Most Valuable'

By LES CONKLIN

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK—It's going to be tough making a choice between Stan Musial and Pete Reiser when the balloting begins this fall for the National league's most valuable player award.

It is admitted that Musial, the league's leading hitter, has a tremendous edge over Reiser in the batting averages and also has performed a near-miracle by changing himself from an outfielder to the circuit's flashiest first baseman in a few short weeks.

On the other hand, this man Reiser can do anything. He makes exceptionally brilliant catches in the outfield. He wallops a long ball, hits in the clutches, steals home like taking candy from a baby, runs the bases like a wild man and peps up the whole Brooklyn team.

Single-handed, Pistol Pete has won game after game for the Dodgers. Yesterday, for instance, he was responsible for all of Brooklyn's runs as the Dodgers pulled a highly important 3 to 2 win out of the fire against the Phillies.

In the first inning, Reiser knocked the ball over the scoreboard for his tenth homer of the season. His single in the third drove in another run. And in the eighth, his tremendous speed in stretching a single into a double was responsible for the winning marker.

* * *

Meanwhile the Cardinals advanced to within two games of the Dodgers by taking two close ones from Cincinnati, 3 to 2 and 2 to 0. Dick Sisler's pinch single won the opener in the 13th, 3 to 2, and he made a hit in the nightcap which helped Harry Brecheen rack up a 2 to 0 shutout.

Individual pitching honors for the day were captured by Paul Erickson of the Chicago Cubs, who held the Pirates to one hit, a seventh-inning single, and blanked them 8 to 0.

The Boston Braves clubbed the New York Giants 7 to 1 after the Giants had hammered out an 8 to 5 triumph in the first game.

In the American league, the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees split a twin bill. Floyd Bevens held the Sox to six hits and whitewashed them in the opener 5 to 0 as Charley Keller walloped his 23rd homer, but Boston got to Joe Page late in the nightcap and won it 4 to 3.

The St. Louis Browns upset Detroit twice, 4 to 3 and 6 to 5, putting a damper on the drive of the Tigers for second place.

Jess Flores of the Athletics blanked Washington, 11 to 0, but the Senators took the second game 6 to 4.

The Chicago White Sox nosed out Cleveland in 11 innings, 6 to 4, then took a 13 to 3 beating in the nightcap.

Win Sail Races At Charles Mill

Frank Bissman launched his new Lightning class racer yesterday to give the sailors a look at this new type boat.

* * *

Glen Macy led the Y-Flyer group around the two-lap course being followed by Milt Stenzil of Mt. Vernon. Harold Dysart, leading man for the season, took third place.

The Interlake class was won by Charles "Speed" Shutt, followed by Paul White for second honors.

Egon Loeckel moved in first position in the second lap of the course and remained there taking top honors in the Super-Sunray class. Commodore Gus Grotegut was second with Carl Gabor third.

Tigers Win, Lose Here

Mansfield Tigers split a double header here yesterday afternoon at Liberty park taking a 13-3 trimming from the Chicago Cubs' baseball school team from Bowling Green in the nightcap after winning the opener from the Galion Vets, 9-8.

Miller was the winning hurler against the Vets while Bob Winbigler was the loser in the second tilt.

WINDSOR HURLS FOR SMITTY'S OVER PEN

With several Mansfield players lending a helping hand, Smitty's Grill of Marion turned in a 4-3 win over the Ohio State Penitentiary nine at Columbus yesterday afternoon.

Kenny Windsor, Safety Cabs ace, set the hard-hitting pen club down with six hits giving the Columbus club its ninth loss in 92 starts this season.

START AT 6 P. M.

For the remainder of the season all games in the YMCA softball leagues will start promptly at 6 p. m. the softball commission has announced. All teams are asked to take note of this.

SERVING YOU THROUGH SCIENCE

It's a stronger tire
It's a safer tire
It's the newest
U.S.ROYAL!

You get all the features that have long made the name "U.S. Royal" famous—plus the advantage of special rayon cord construction* to make your driving extra safe, trouble-free and luxurious.

Nine years ago when "U.S." first marketed a rayon cord tire it was proven that although rayon-built tires are lighter, they are also stronger and safer.

That's because this super-strength rayon "U.S." uses, runs many degrees cooler...cuts down destructive inner heat . . . adds thousands of miles to tire life . . . and gives you far greater protection against blow-outs.

And of course in this newest U.S. Royal you get many other safety features, too—the famous Royal block tread for smooth riding—perfect balance for easy steering and parking. The fact is that U.S. Royals are every bit as modern as the fine cars on which they are standard equipment—every bit as fine as the quality name they've built up over the last thirty years—every bit as good value for your money as U.S. Royals have always been.

See these great new tires today at your U. S. Tire Dealer's—find out how soon you can be riding on rayon-built U. S. Royals!

*Present Government regulations restrict all rayon construction to sizes 6:50 and larger

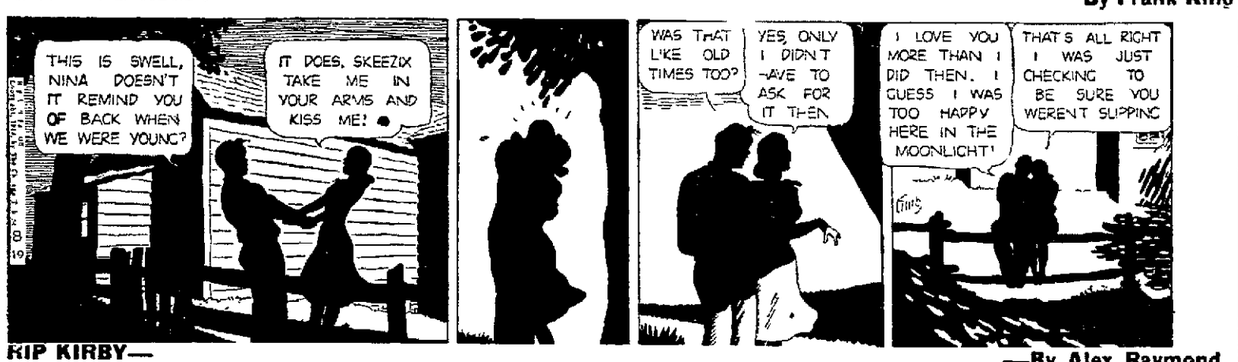
TERRY AND THE PIRATES— By Milton Caniff

MY FATHER PAID FOR CHARTERING THIS PLANE TO CARRY RELIEF SUPPLIES—AND I AM IN CHARGE OF THE EXPEDITION!
TERRY—DID YOU HEAR THAT? NOW WE KNOW WHY NASTALTHIA CALLED OFF THE FLYING LESSONS!
IT'S REALLY GENEROUS OF YOU TO POSTPONE YOUR OWN FUN TO DO SOMETHING FOR THOSE STARVING PEOPLE! LING, PUT MISS SMYTHE-HEATHER-TONES LUGGAGE ON BOARD!
PLENTY TOO MUCH WEIGHT ON BIRD NOW CAP'N LEE! WHAT LING DO?
THAT LACKEY IS PROBABLY MENTIONING THAT YOU ARE OVERLOADED
—I ANTICIPATED THAT! YOU WILL FIND SOME OF MY BAGS MARKED 'LAST SEASON' PUT THOSE ASIDE—I WILL CARRY ONLY THE NEW GOWNS!

GASOLINE ALLEY— By Frank King



THIS IS SWELL, NINA DOESN'T IT REMIND YOU OF BACK WHEN WE WERE YOUNG?
IT DOES, SKEEZIX TAKE ME IN YOUR ARMS AND KISS ME!
WAS THAT LIKE OLD TIMES TOO?
YES, ONLY I DIDN'T HAVE TO ASK FOR IT THEN
I LOVE YOU MORE THAN I DID THEN. I GUESS I WAS TOO HAPPY HERE IN THE MOONLIGHT!
THAT'S ALL RIGHT I WAS JUST CHECKING TO BE SURE YOU WEREN'T SLIPPING

KIP KIRBY— —By Alex Raymond

NO SIGN OF THE LEE GIRL OR DR VALDA SEEM TO HAVE ESCAPED THROUGH AN OLD TUNNEL.
THEY CAN'T HAVE GONE FAR! BETTER SEND OUT AN ALARM!
DESMOND AND THE POLICE HAVE RESCUED RIP AND HONEY FROM THE MANGLERS GANG BUT THE RINGLEADERS HAVE ESCAPED WITH THE HICKS FORMULA
WE SEARCHED THE BODIES OF THE OTHER THREE... NOTHIN
HOLD ON.. THERE WERE FOUR BESIDES PAGAN AND DOC! COME ON!
BOOM-BOOM HAS ALSO ESCAPED. HE FELL HERE WHEN DESMOND SHOT HIM!
MUST HAVE JUST WINGED HIM WE'D BETTER REPORT TO HEADQUARTERS!

PRICES DIP AS LIGHT SELLING SLOWS MARKET

Scattered Favorites Attract Timid Bidding, But Most Buyers Delay Action.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Steels, motors and assorted industrials were subjected to further light selling in today's stock market although a few favorites attracted timid bidding.

Most potential buyers, brokers said, inclined to stand aside pending decisions of the price decontrol board, expected late tomorrow, while accounts were trimmed elsewhere on the idea that growing labor disputes might make another sharp dent in reconversion. Good earnings and dividends were ignored by most issues concerned.

Backward were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, American Telephone, Kennecott, American Smelting, American San, Du Pont, National Distillers, Schenley, Great Northern, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio. Resistant were Goodrich, Public Service of N. J., Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Colgate, Philip Morris and Johns-Manville.

Briefs

Held On Warrant — Paul LeRoy Clark, 38, 76 Orchard street, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Saturday on a warrant charging contempt of an Ashland county court order.

Chickens Stolen — Mrs. Harry Wagner, Lexington, reported to the sheriff's department early today the theft of 40 or 50 White Rock chickens, each weighing about five pounds, from her farm.

Auto Stolen — Azle Buill, 527 North Mulberry street, reported to the sheriff's department yesterday that his auto, bearing license number WH-799, was stolen from where it was parked on State Route 39 west of Mansfield.

Auto Burns — Firemen were called about midnight Sunday to extinguish a minor fire in a car owned by Dale Ropp, 99 Lind avenue. They said a hole, probably caused by a cigaret, was burned in the seat of the 1940 coupe.

Cooperatives Meet—The Cooperative club will hear Earl L. Heasley, instructor of public speech in Senior high school, at their meeting Tuesday evening in the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The program committee will report on plans for the annual corn roast picnic.

Moose Honored—Fred Harmon, Ed Wiley and Michael Rohol, members of the Moose lodge, have received the fellowship degree. Their selections for the honor were announced by James J. Davis, grand governor and head of the Moose. The degrees will be conferred at the national Moose convention in Chicago later this month.

Cars Stolen—Three cars were stolen Saturday and Sunday nights. One of them was recovered less than 10 minutes after it was reported stolen, police said. The recovered car is owned by Leonard Kiser, 97 East Third street. Still missing are a green, 1936 coach owned by John Moore, 52 South Diamond street, and a 1937 sedan owned by Mike Bauer, Mansfield, R. D. 4. Moore said the keys were in his car when it was taken from East Second street Saturday night. The Bauer machine was stolen Saturday night from Park avenue east.

MARLIN 13TH IN AKRON RACE

Mansfield Entry Wins His First Two Heats, Then Loses.

In the second round, his two opponents were Kenneth Bentley, Ravenna, Ohio, and Ted Driver, Niagara Falls, N. Y. It took a last-minute spurt for Marlin to nose out Driver in 27.30 seconds.

Had the third-round race been just a few yards longer, Kindinger might have won his third heat.

This time he was racing against Haney, and Dave Smith of Los Angeles, Calif.

Neck And Neck.

All three cars hit the half way mark in almost a straight line Haney's car pulled ahead as they neared the finish line as Marlin made a last second effort to overtake him. The Mansfielder just beat Haney by a foot.

Fourth place in the finals went to Harold Hayes, Durham, N. C., with Ted Garland, White Plains, N. Y., taking fifth and Jerry Aulick of Scottsbluff, Nebr., sixth.

Following the race yesterday afternoon, the 112 drivers attended the champion's banquet at the Mayflower hotel where the awards were presented.

Each of the city champions received a gold wrist watch, plus their racing uniforms.

For winning the national championship, the San Diego lad was awarded a four-year scholarship at any college or university in the country. It is worth $2,000.

Zoller won a 1946 Chevrolet sedan for second place.

Then the discussion got around to diet, but Monroe wasn't overly helpful to those who would live a century and a third.

"I eat everything," he revealed.

The nurse who accompanied the bald, white-goateed oldster by plane from Jacksonville, Fla., disclosed that a physician who examined him at the airport here was astonished to find his blood pressure 140, his pulse 70, and his heart "like that of a man of 50."

Born patriotically enough on July 4, 1815, Monroe served as a major in the confederate army at the age of 45. He also served in the Boer war and had the dubious honor of having a price placed on his head.

At the outbreak of World War I, the old man tried to enlist, but it appeared that 29 years ago the army wasn't taking men at the age of 102. So he went to work in a shipyard—as a riveter, he said.

Majorettes Wow Legion At Cleveland

Ashlanders joined crowds on the mall, where the Class B legion band contests were held They saw Ashland nosed out of first place by Portage Post band of Kent in state final competition.

Despite stiff competition in band and bugle corps contests, the legion's "fightin' fifth" district (of which both Mansfield and Ashland are a part) managed to cop one first place when Elyria's drum and bugle corps won its ninth state championship, before 4,000 spectators in Cleveland stadium.

Perhaps the most colorful and attention-getting stunt yet performed by Mansfielders at the convention was a "ballyhoo" parade staged throughout the downtown area Saturday night and early Sunday morning

Majorettes Wow 'Em.

Led by Hollis Moorhead, a segment of McVey Post drum and bugle corps with three drum majorettes staged a brief concert and show in every major hotel lobby downtown.

Both the McVey post band and drum and bugle corps were scheduled to take part in today's mammoth "Victory Parade" at 3 p m. An estimated crowd of 10,000 legionnaires was expected to March, with 60 musical units

The parade will take more than two hours to pass the reviewing stand.

Also on the day's agenda are reports of convention committees on which Mansfielders Ralph Hughes, McVey Post commander, and John W. Graham past post commander, are serving Later in the day several nationally known speakers will talk from the platform.

Housing Action Demand.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Gen Alexander A Vandergrieft, Marine Corps commandant, here to lead the parade of the Ohio American Legion, will present the Congressional Medal of Honor to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Foster of suburban Garfield Heights, whose son, Marine Pfc. William A Foster died of wounds after he fell on exploding Japanese hand grenade on Okinawa. Dying from the wounds, he handed two grenades to the comrade whose life he had saved by the act and said, "make these count"

Among resolutions prepared for today's business sessions are demands for state action in the housing crisis and a state appropriation of $1,000 000 to be loaned to school boards and other educational units in the state for establishment of veterans school programs

Make Peace Move.

Moslem league leaders were expected to attempt again today to restore peace. The Moslem league, which asserts itself as spokesman for India's 90,000,000 Moslems, disliked the British independence plan because the strongly-Hindu Congress party, far the largest political organization in India, gained wide control. Moslem league demands for Pakistan, or partition of India between Hindu and Moslem areas, were rejected in the independence scheme.

Police reports showed hundreds of [illegible] men and children were butchered or burned to death in the bustee (tenement) areas.

HAPPY JACK RETURNS

"Here's a truth for all to ponder;
"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

—Old Mother Nature.

That really is a truth, just as Old Mother Nature says. Of course she doesn't mean too long an absence. That may work just the other way. What she means is a short absence, just long enough to begin to really miss those parted with, but not long enough to get over missing them.

Happy Jack Squirrel wasn't happy. He was cross, and only a few can be happy and cross at the same time. There are some who seem to find happiness in feeling cross, but something must be the matter with them. Don't you think so?

Happy Jack had hurried to help Mrs. Happy Jack fight Mr. Blacksnake. The latter had given up and slipped away in a hurry. Instead of thanking Happy Jack for his help Mrs. Happy Jack had not only refused to allow him into their big outside home but had driven him out of the tree in which it was. No wonder he was cross. His feelings were hurt. Hurt feelings and crossness go together. So off he went, mumbling to himself that he didn't care; that if he wasn't wanted around his own home he would go where he was wanted. All the time he kept jerking his big, broad tail in the way of all Squirrels when they are excited or feeling out of sorts.

It took all the rest of the day to get over feeling upset. Then he began to miss Mrs. Happy Jack and to wonder what she was doing. At first he told himself that he wouldn't go back ever; that he wanted never to see her again. Of course tht was just foolishness, proof that he was missing her more and more. A little while before time for the Black Shadows to come trooping out from the Purple Hills he was back near that tree. He was very quiet, sitting very still in a place in another tree from which he could watch the big nest of twigs and leaves which was the home from which Mrs. Happy Jack had driven him. He tried to keep out of sight himself. He waited and waited, but there was no sign of Mrs. Happy Jack. She didn't so much as poke the tip of her nose out of that nest. At first he wasn't surprised. During the last few days she had spent much time inside the home. But when the time became much longer than he had known her to stay inside before, he began to wonder. The longer he waited the more he missed her.

By and by wonder became worry. Why didn't she come out? Why didn't she show herself? If he could just see her he wouldn't mind if she did drive him away again. When he could no longer stand the suspense he came out of hiding and jumped over into the tree in which was the nest. He didn't go right to the nest. He fooled around in other parts of the tree, ready to jump and run should she come out in a bad temper. He wasn't exactly afraid of her. He just didn't want to fight with her. There was nothing to fight about.

Little by little, with many stops, he drew near the entrance. He called softly. No answer. Perhaps she didn't hear him. He called a little louder. Still no answer. Then he barked sharply. He was beginning to be cross again. He didn't like the way he was being treated, or thought he was.

At last he poked his head in at the entrance, ready to draw back quickly and jump and run should he be attacked. He wasn't. He hesitated a long moment, then went wholly inside. This snug, comfortable home was empty. Yes, sir, it was empty. His nose told him that Mrs. Happy Jack had been gone for some time. It also told him something else. It told him that there had been others in that soft bed in the middle of the nest, babies!

"So that was it—babies! That explains everything," exclaimed Happy Jack. "Babies this time of year! Now I understand why she wouldn't let me in here. But where are they now? Did Mr. Blacksnake get them after all? And where is she?"

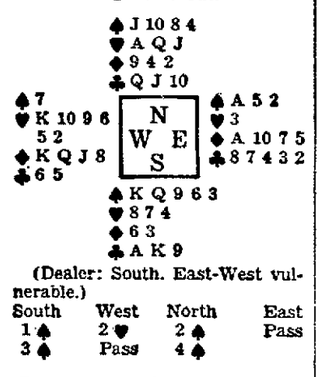
Happy Jack rushed outside. What had become of Mrs. Happy Jack and the babies? What could have become of them? What did Mr. Blacksnake know about them? Where was he? Happy Jack hadn't the least idea. He forgot all about feeling cross because Mrs. Happy Jack had driven him away. Just now nothing at all mattered but finding if nothing dreadful had happened to her.

The next story: "What Mother Did."

Barclay On Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

There are two utterly different kinds of situations in which a defender should deliberately overtake his partner's trick-winning card with a higher card. One of those comes when it is vital to have the next lead from the hand which does the overtaking. The other arrives when the overtaking defender has such a hand that he is able to see what will he the most effective defensive plan, while his partner lacks the information to figure it out.

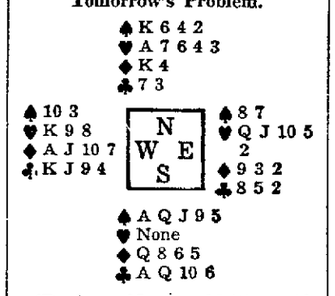


(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♥	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

It was easy for East to see, when West led the diamond K, that trying for a ruff in hearts was important to the defense of this contract. So, to encourage a shift to the higher-ranking of the other two side suits, hearts, he decided that a high card on the diamond K would be treated by his partner as a suit-preference signal. The 10 which he played, however, looked like an "encouraging card" to West, who repeated the suit with the 8, the A winning. East returned the heart 3, but declarer won it in dummy,

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

If South bids 1-Spade, North 3-Spades and South 6-Spades, what is the best defense against the contract?

drove out the spade A, took the club return and won the rest of the tricks.

The fact that West should not read the diamond 10 as a "suit preference" signal is not the big point here. More important is that East could see what was the best defense, whereas his partner could not know for sure. So East should have overplayed the diamond K with the A and led back his heart. Then, when East won with the spade A, he could have put West in the lead with a diamond return, whereupon West would have made the devastating lead for the heart ruff.

Daylilies Can Be Planted This Fall

If you have recently admired Daylily blooms in a neighboring garden, and wish to have the beauty of these flowers in your own garden you can plant them either this month or in September.

Daylilies are showy perennial herbs belonging to the Lily family. They bloom from late May until early September. The flowers last but one day, hence the name.

The numerous species have long, narrow leaves and yellow or orange flowers, many of which possess a delicious fragrance. A typical Daylily is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

The plant is not a true lily for instead of growing from a bulb, as do all lilies, it grows from fleshy tuberous roots. It is extremely hardy and free from the many diseases which so often attack true lilies. They require little beyond a well-drained soil. They prefer partial shade, but do excellently in full sun. They may be grown singly or in masses. Although each flower of the Daylily stays open for only one day, there are always other buds ready to burst into bloom, as illustrated.

A new hybrid Daylily, the Mikado, is also illustrated. It produces flowers five inches across and in striking colors. A large spot of mahogany-red in each petal contrasts sharply with the rich orange of the rest of the flower.

Another group of hybrid Daylilies, known as the Leonian Hemerocallis, is now available. In height they vary from three to five feet, and stand on stalwart stems. Their flowers are of every shade, from deepest burnt orange through flaming orange-red into amazing tints of pastel old rose and maroon shades. They have a clean and pleasant fragrance.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennet Cerf

Joe Laurie, jr., swears that he saw a traffic sign in a small southern town that read "No U-all Turns here." He adds that the rules of etiquette were so strictly observed that a man staring at a lot of shiny new dentures in a shop window was pinched for picking his teeth in public.

Once Joe dashed into a drug-store and cried, "Quick! Give me ten cents worth of aspirin and some insect powder. I've got a lousy headache!" When friends had a baby daughter, Joe suggested that they word the announcement, "We have skirted the issue."

"What a change has come over your husband Zeke since we persuaded him to join the church," exulted a preacher in the hill-billy country. "Have you noticed it?" "Sure have," agreed Zeke's wife. "Before, when he went visitin' on Sundays he carried his jug of corn whiskey on his shoulders. Now he hides it under his coat."

Two street-cleaners paused for a chat on Fifty-seventh street. "What do you think of Ernest Hemingway?" asked the first. "Great stuff," said the second, "but don't you think he's a little too precious for the man in the street?"

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, AUGUST 19, 1946

It sometimes seems that it is less difficult to win a war than to win a peace.

Normalcy is returning to the extent of occasionally hearing some person ask the price of an article before saying they'll take it.

The Russians have applied for admission to the International Football League. They should do well; they have had plenty of practice in kicking.

Shipping Strike Hits Vital Products

INEVITABLY, it appears, violence has been flaring at various spots in the area directly affected by the strike of members of the CIO National Maritime union, which has been hampering Great Lakes shipping for almost a week.

A picket line, while designated as "peaceful," can scarcely be trusted to avoid a show of intended violence in the event of anyone attempting to pass it, and it is picket line clashes that are reported from Detroit and other lake points, with Joseph Curran, president of the maritime union, announcing: "If goons from the Lake Carriers' association want trouble, they'll get it all across the lakes. We propose to see that no pickets are hurt."

This assumes, of course, that pickets are not to hurt anyone else, but it is not so stated, and reports indicate that injuries are about equally divided.

Aside from the violence, however, the strike of shipping workers, if continued and extended, can have serious national effects, as much of the ore from the Superior mines is brought to Ohio and Pennsylvania steel mills during the short lake shipping season and its curtailment will hamper badly needed steel production next winter.

Water shipment of automobiles and many other needed commodities is also being reduced and it is the obvious intent of strikers to effect a complete shutdown of lake transportation.

While this is a national problem, similar to many others presented within the past year, the federal government still seems unwilling—or unable—to find and apply a remedy for such situations . . meanwhile millions of people suffer because of a labor-management dispute that directly involves only a few thousand persons.

Legionnaires Mix Fun and Business

MANSFIELD, as might be expected, is well represented at the American Legion state convention now in progress in Cleveland, for McVey post of this city has long been recognized as among the most active in the state.

This is the first postwar convention of the Ohio Department of the American Legion—and the first to include veterans of World War II, many of whom are now included in Legion membership.

While, as is customary, a considerable element of fun and frolic is entering into the convention program, it is gratifying to note that chief emphasis is being placed on the important business which engages attention of all serious minded veterans—betterment of conditions in the nation which they fought to preserve, and exercise of all honorable means to assure permanent world peace.

It is interesting to note that young veterans over the country are showing a lively interest in organization and political affairs, and with sound leadership they should very soon be exerting a considerable influence in the conduct of public business in their own communities and states, as well as in the entire country. Much will depend on the energy, determination and integrity with which these young veterans of World War II, and their comrades of World War I, meet the challenge of national and international problems with which their elders have thus far unsuccessfully coped.

Can Depressions Be Avoided?

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has decided to make an effort to do away with the fluctuating economy which hitherto has been taken for granted as normal. A few years of feverish prosperity have always been followed by several more of depression, but some economists are convinced that it need not be so.

The work of the president's new Council of Economic Advisers will be to analyze business trends and show the country how to spread out employment evenly over a period of years. If building construction, for instance, could be planned for and authorized in good times, and then held off until depression days, when materials and labor are cheaper, the back of a depression would be broken.

So many agencies have a hand in promoting programs of public works and public construction that a good deal of education would be necessary to put such a program across with any degree of success. The Economic Council may have to plan a sort of public information campaign to get the support of the country at large.

Traveling Homes of Circus Folks

CIRCUS TRAINS have their own peculiar problems, in the sections occupied by the human performers, because the railroad cars are permanent homes for those people.

Naturally everybody wants a lower berth, and naturally there aren't enough of these to go around. Showers are only for the managers, and laundry has to be sent out in one town, to be delivered in another.

Circus people are gay travelers, though, according to Reporter Omar Ranney who rode with some of them recently. They fix up their own staterooms with everything from flowered curtains to closets, and they are quick to offer the hospitality of their rail-riding homes.

Busy Days In Switzerland

SWITZERLAND must be the happy land, because official reports indicate that there is no unemployment. The only unemployed Swiss is the head of the federal unemployment commission. Industrial leaders are even importing from 20,000 to 40,000 Italians to help fill orders for manufactured goods.

This sounds as if there were no housing shortage, which seems like something too good to be true.

It is "indicated" that Bing Crosby is to be paid $30,000 a week for providing a transcribed radio program during the coming season—which may give Jimmy Petrillo an idea that this should become the union scale.

Now is the time of year hat the thrifty fellow starts shopping around for a straw hat.

PEACE, IT'S WONDERFUL!

Russian High Command Is Split Over War Showdown or Delay

Editor's Note—This is the second column in Drew Pearson's series on the war clouds now gathering over eastern Europe.)

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—To evaluate the factors behind the present massing of Soviet airborne divisions along the Black Sea and the dangerous jockeying of Russian-British forces in the Near East, it's necessary to scrutinize certain captured documents which have come into the hands of the American army in Germany.

The U. S. army has now got hold of the minutes of extremely important conversations between Hitler's Foreign Minister Ribbentrop and Stalin's Foreign Minister Molotov in which the Russians debated entering the war on the side of Germany—if the price was high enough. The Germans are most methodical record keepers, and the complete history of these diplomatic conversations was faithfully recorded.

They show that in 1940, about six months before Hitler double-crossed Stalin by invading Russia, Molotov came to Berlin and discussed with Ribbentrop the terms Germany was willing to pay to secure Russia's entrance into the war to crush England.

Significant fact is that the Russian price was almost identical with the goals Moscow has set for itself today: A sphere of influence in Bulgaria: also in Romania; control of the Dardanelles; domination of Iran, Iraq and the Gulf of Persia; a base in Saudi Arabia; and of course the Baltic states and one-half of Poland which, in 1940, already had been given Russia.

The Dardanelles and the Near East were the easiest problems Molotov and Ribbentrop had to solve. Hitler was quite willing to give this area to Russia, but not Bulgaria and Romania.

Germany wanted to expand in the Balkans herself. That was where the negotiations foundered. Hitler by that time considered the Allies virtually defeated, and finally Molotov went home without signing up as a Nazi ally.

What Russia Wants Now.

Importance of these captured documents is the fact that Russian ambitions have not changed. Despite the fact that we have established a United Nations to safeguard the world, Moscow remains the same in negotiating with the Allies today as in 1940 when negotiating with the world's bloodiest cutthroat—Hitler.

Big question which Moscow's former allies face is: Will the Russians risk war to get control of the Near East? Actually that is the question behind all the trouble in Palestine.

That is also the question behind mobilization of the British navy in the Near East and the sending of three crack British divisions to the Gulf of Persia. It is the question which could plunge Europe into another war.

To answer the question it is necessary to know something of what goes on inside the Soviet Union. There appear to be two schools of thought in Moscow—one for war and one against. The former group is headed by Marshal Beriya, a Georgian who is a close friend of Stalin's and is former chief of the NKVD (secret police).

This group believes that now is the time to strike at Turkey and Trieste even if it means war with the United States and Great Britain. This group believes that with the U. S. army demobilized and the American people sick of war, the United States would not come to Britain's support as far away as the Near East. The Red army therefore should move immediately regardless of the consequences.

The other group of Russian leaders is opposed to any showdown now. They believe Russia should wait a year or two—even more if necessary—until they have developed the atomic bomb. They figure this can be done fairly soon because of the German scientists they have put to work on all sorts of new weapons—including the mysterious radio-controlled rockets now zooming over Sweden.

Inside Moscow.

Which side will win out is anybody's guess. However, certain underground rumblings inside the Soviet indicate that the path of war will not be an easy one.

One factor the Soviet war group will have to overcome is apathy on the part of the Red army. Russian troops are tired of war, somewhat disillusioned over the benefits of Communism and many would resent being called once more into battle.

Desertions from the Red army, while impossible to estimate, have continued in a steady dribble. The other day in Vienna, 300 Red soldiers on a train en route to Russia bolted and ran off into the woods. In Budapest recently Red soldiers held up a streetcar and carried away the clothes of its passengers. They were army deserters and needed civilian clothing to substitute for their Russian uniforms.

Russian soldiers arriving in Vienna were amazed at the apartment houses for workers erected by the previous Socialist government of Austria. They were equally amazed at the comparative luxury of western civilization, even in battered Germany.

Probably this is one reason for the intense anti-capitalist propaganda campaign carried on by the Moscow press and radio against Great Britain and the United States.

That campaign has tried to convince Russia's 190,000,000 citizens that they are surrounded by a ring of envious capitalistic enemies and that their only chance of survival is complete reliance on the Kremlin. Unfortunately this campaign, by tearing down the once sincere wartime friendship for Russia which existed in this country, has helped make such a situation partly true.

Such are some of the backstage factors which strengthen the hand of the Moscow group which wants to delay any showdown with the former allies. Despite this, the massing of Soviet troops and the Soviet navy along the Black Sea, the diplomatic squeeze now being put on Turkey, the Russian propaganda spread among Arabs, all point toward an early showdown.

The big question—to be discussed in a future column—is whether Russia's former allies shall call her hand and risk war, or shall they appease, stall for time, and gamble on the future.

Dave Boone Says:

THAT Washington probe into war surplus property gets funnier and funnier. Now an operator has testified that he bought up a lot of things from the army and navy surplus piles and resold them to the army and navy at a profit!

It seems the army and navy wanted to get some stuff that it already had in its possession. The War Assets Administration which handles the surplus sales may have been called up by the armed services, but it probably didn't know what it had on hand or who was getting it.

And it's the government bureaucrats who are always out in the lead criticizing American business men!

There's never any doubt about politics in Maine . . . the people you see on the farms and streets are Republicans and those off shore are Democrats waiting for a dark night to land.

With the president at sea, Mr. Byrnes in Paris and congress adjourned the question has arisen . . . who is running the country today?

The answer is the same people who have been running it since the war ended.

Assignment: America

—By KENNETH L. DIXON

Accomplishments and Aims of Vet Winners.

ATHENS, Tenn.—Ripples from the rock that Tennessee veterans tossed in election waters here a fortnight ago already have grown to the proportions of a spreading political tidal wave across the country.

Ex-soldiers elsewhere caught up the cadence count so quickly that old-line politicians started checking travel folders.

In view of that trend, Americans are justified in asking what the Athens veterans actually accomplished.

How is their government going to be better than the one provided by the ten-year-old McMinn county political machine they deposed—first by votes and then by violence—last election day?

In other words, what's happened where the rock was dropped? Obviously, it's too early to measure permanent improvements, but already the veterans' non-partisan victors have established these temporary transitions:

1. By a gentleman's agreement made during the campaign and cemented by administrative order after the victory, salaries of the five county offices at stake will be held to $5,000 a year. This is extremely important, in view of the fact that under the Tennessee fee system for arrests and legal actions, the sheriff's annual income for instance, is known to have gone as high as $25,000 a year. Now, after $5,000, it goes back into the county coffers.

2. City police (paid a flat salary) who previously were permitted to turn their prisoners over to the county deputies so that fees could be collected and split, now must book them in city court only—which means no fees for their arrests.

Thus, with deputies also on a limited straight salary basis, the biggest incentive for wanton arrests, inevitably leading to badge-wearers' intimidation of the public—as in the past—has been eliminated. The elementary mathematics show that taxpayers will be saved thousands of dollars by the fee kickbacks.

Confiscation of scores of slot machines and countless gallons of illicit booze, and closing of wide-open gambling joints is perhaps only a recognized and routine part of any clean-up campaign. But in any case, that's what the ex-GI's have done since election day.

However, they are not parading as rabid reformers. They admit the improbability of ever totally eliminating bootlegging, gambling and the like from McMinn county.

"But what we do hope to do," said one of the newly-elected vets, "is reduce those activities to the point where it's no longer profitable for racketeers to move in and foul up the community with violence and the local government with graft."

Probably the most progressive thing the veterans yet have done is to start organization of a Good Government League—which actually will be a self-requested watchdog on their own administration.

Currently it has a steering committee of six veterans and six businessmen—all non-office holders and equally divided between the two major parties—which was appointed at a preliminary citizens' meeting.

Eventually, it plans a membership of at least a thousand taxpayers, including representation from every part of the country and from such organizations as the Ladies' Garden club which recently went on the record approving the veterans' vendetta.

"The job of the Good Government League," said John Peck, army veteran of five years service and now member of the steering committee, "will be to investigate all reports of inefficiency or malfeasance in office, and publicize its findings. If that doesn't correct the situation, it then will call for grand jury or state or federal action."

Knowing that they too are only human, the wiser heads among the veterans—now almost 100 per cent popular in the county—want to guard themselves, as well as future administrations, against the enticement to merely replace one corrupt political machine with another.

Timely Editorial

Bilbo and the Klan.

Though admitting on a nation-wide radio program the other night that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan, Senator Bilbo of Mississippi hedged a little by adding that he had attended only one meeting and never went back because he wasn't in sympathy "with some of the things in it."

Without clarification, it would be pretty hard after studying Senator Bilbo's record to guess just what objectives of the Klan could possibly meet with his disapproval. Time after time he has intimated—to put it mildly—that he is against almost all forms of human progress, which seems to be the Klan's program also.—Toledo Blade.

Jobs for the Physically Handicapped.

WASHINGTON—It is customary in this place about this season to say something of a man who spends his days devotedly and tirelessly here trying to help the physically handicapped to find regular jobs in our great industrial machine.

Some years ago Paul A. Strachan, himself disabled, lay on his bed with the radio turned on and heard Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick tell the story about Ole Bull, the violinist. When he had a string to snap in the midst of a performance, he transposed and finished the piece of music on three strings.

"What am I doing lying here?" Paul suddenly said to himself. He got up, put on his clothes, shoved aside protesting nurses and doctors, and went out to play his life on three strings.

He first became active in labor organization. Later he founded the American Federation of the Physically Handicapped.

He got himself a little office on the top floor of the National Press building, started to pecking away at his typewriter and plagued members of congress and government officials with personal visits.

There, with the help of his secretary, Mildred Scott, who also is physically handicapped, he conducts the affairs of this national organization which now has lodges all over the country.

Paul is deaf, among other disabilities, but Mildrd Scott can hear, and together they get a lot done.

Over four and a half years ago Paul Strachan conceived the idea of a "National Employ-the-Physically-Handicapped week" to call the attention of the country to a great national problem so that millions who are disabled in one way or another—and this now includes war veterans as well as civilians—can equip themselves for useful lives, self-supporting and independent.

It took three years to get a bill through congress authorizing the week. It was observed for the first time last year when President Truman, in keeping with the act of congress, issued a proclamation in August setting aside a week in October. In the near future the president will proclaim this year's observance also in October.

Elaborate plans are being made to enlist the interest of every community in its physically disabled. Paul Strachan has real help now in the strong arm of the government and, in particular, in the energetic and able person of Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine of the marines, commander at Iwo Jima, head of the retraining and re-employment administration in the labor department.

This agency, which has the cooperation of others in the government through an inter-agency committee, is delegated to work with states and local communities to provide retraining and rehabilitation opportunities for the physically handicapped, including war veterans, "with the ultimate objective of assuring them economic security by placing them in gainful employment."

The further we get away from the war and the victory the greater is the tendency to forget.

How true this is today with regard to the disabled—those from the war and those from war industry—has been pointed out by General Erskine and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach.

The physically handicapped performed valuable and valiant service in industry during the war. Industries reported there was a smaller labor turnover among these workers, less absenteeism, and equal or higher production rates.

Truman Evidences Confidence In Byrnes.

WASHINGTON—If any proof were needed of President Truman's complete trust in his secretary of state, it is given in the president's departure on the yacht Williamsburg for a much-needed vacation.

Here is a rather remarkable situation. The peace conference in Paris is going full blast, and yet Washington will be almost a deserted village for the next fortnight.

There are, of course, various means of communicating with the presidential yacht. A ship-to-shore teletype records messages at all hours. The navy will maintain air service between Washington and the ship so that documents can be sent back and forth.

In addition, a ship-to-shore radio telephone makes voice communication possible. This, however, is an uncertain instrument, as many of the president's official family have discovered. Atmospheric conditions frequently make conversation impossible.

But it is quite obvious that Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is not dependent on day-to-day word from his chief in forming policy in Paris.

Returning from Paris the other day, Assistant Secretary of State Will Clayton reported that Byrnes had achieved a philosophic serenity which was quite extraordinary. In spite of the bickering, the acrimony, the harsh words in the conference chamber, Byrnes maintains a calm detachment.

Between the president and his secretary of state, there is complete confidence. Byrnes has no need to do the constant checking that his opposite number, Foreign Minister Molotov is said to do with his chief, Joseph Stalin.

President Truman dislikes and mistrusts personal government. He has made an honest effort to delegate authority to his cabinet officers. Perhaps Byrnes is the most conspicuous success in this direction.

But even if the president had been able to find ten top-drawer statesmen for his cabinet, which he has not, the burden on him would still be almost insupportable. He needs this vacation. He needs to get away from those who are closest to him, so that he can get a perspective on what must be the most back-breaking job in the world.

The president is very tired. For the first time he feels the strain of office. Of late he has begun to complain about the never-ending crises which are dumped into his lap. That is a sign he needs a rest.

Perhaps his major struggle is in getting good men to serve in his administration. And the newly created atomic energy commission has proved possibly the toughest of all these struggles.

It is just possible that the man in the White House brings some of this anguish down on himself. Perhaps if he had worked a little harder on congress, the atomic control law might have been passed earlier in the session. Then the president would not be under the embarrassment of having to ask men to accept interim appointments with the senate away for six months. But that is second guessing, and the president, as he likes to remind his visitors, cannot indulge in that luxury.

Farmer's Diary: "An Unanswered Question."

I SAW a boy of about 16 working in the garden east of his home. He was a fine keen lad, so absorbed in what he was doing that he did not notice me until I was very near.

"What are you doing?" I wondered.

He stood up straight with two dark red ripe tomatoes in his hands. "This is the only stalk out of a dozen plants that grew five big tomatoes," he said. "Last year I saved the seed from one plant that was different from all the others. They tasted better, had more pulp and less seeds, and held up longer after they were ripe."

He had a small cantalope patch, with green fruit. Some tiny paper bags were wet and discarded against the soil. "Those are from breeding the cantalopes," he explained. "If you cover the flower that is ready to fruit with a paper bag, and shake the pollen from male blossoms upon it, you can improve the size and quality of the melons. Anyway that's the theory. I'm trying it out on some of mine. See, those do look larger, in that row!"

His dark eyes were excited and amused.

"Here are my gladiolas. There's three shades of purple. Did you ever see that many anywhere else? Purple ones? No, you never did. I've a brand new potato too. It's there in the mulch. It grows strong and fast, and the bugs have let it alone, so far. It'll be white and mealy inside and red outside—can you feature that? Maybe next year I'll sell it to a seed house."

I envied that dark-eyed lad. He was going places. He was doing at 16 what I had wanted to test out all my life, and didn't. He was following a natural bent, because he loved it.

"Plant breeding is a limitless field of service," I said to him. "Any person who works along with nature for better selection of seeds and plants, is doing great things for whoever may follow him. For with better fruits and vegetables, and more fragrant flowers, the earth will be a happier, healthier place."

And then the lad looked at me straight, and asked the question that I could not answer. "Why is it, I wonder, he remarked, "that people are not trained how to reproduce a better and better species of men with every generation?"

ARMY BEGINS TO DIM BRASS

Steps Taken to Eliminate Caste System on Basis of Recommendations.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The war department said today it had taken "important steps" to carry out the recommendations of the James Doolittle army caste system board to make the army more democratic.

The board, headed by Lt. Gen. James A. Doolittle, reported to Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson last May a list of recommendations for liberalizing army regulations.

The army ordered the salute abolished, except on army posts, overseas, and at formal functions.

Other recent actions were:

1. Increased pay on a sliding scale, ranging from 50 per cent for privates to 10 per cent for field grade and general officers.

2. Terminal leave pay for enlisted men and officers, except for insignia, effective July 1, 1948.

3. Study of the problem of providing an equitable system for operation of officers' clubs, noncommissioned officers' clubs and enlisted men's clubs, "based on the number of men using each facility."

Patterson said he believes the postwar army school system will carry out the recommendation of the Doolittle board to improve leadership.

The military academy at West Point and other army schools will give courses on the psychology of leadership. The command and staff college will teach personnel management, utilization of manpower, leadership, human relations and personnel research.

Patterson said the war department clemency boards were working to carry out the Doolittle board recommendations for more equality in the treatment of enlisted men in military justice.

Discriminatory references between officers and enlisted men and their families are being eliminated from army directives.

The war department general staff is reviewing the handling of awards and decorations. The army is trying to improve its system of handling complaints.

Army officers have been ordered to try to improve military-civilian relationships.

COURT GOES TO BEDSIDE

AMBRIDGE, Pa. —(UP)— Joseph Miller, defendant in an equity proceeding, was bedridden, so Judge Morgan H. Sohn brought the court to his bedside. A regular hearing, attended by the court stenographer and attorneys for both parties was held.

Charles Hoffman Rounds Out 60 Years In Plumbing Business

Started As Heating Contractor When He Was 14.

By JOHN MINE

A man who likes to work with his hands is Charles Hoffman, president of the Hoffman Plumbing company, who, at 74, thinks nothing of climbing into a pair of overalls to help out—"during an emergency"—at the shop.

Rounding out 60 years in business in Mansfield next month, Hoffman, a native of this city, now concentrates on mapping plans for new jobs and ordering material for them.

Trained in the trade by his father, John M. Hoffman, Hoffman started in 1886 as a contractor for erecting warm air furnaces.

Since then he has learned to do all of the types of work which his company now handles, including sheet metal work, plumbing, built-up roofing and installation of steam, hot water and warm air heating plants.

* * *

THREE BROTHERS IN FIRM, TOO

Three of Hoffman's brothers are also with the company. John started in 1894, Louis in 1898 and Herman in 1904.

His wife, Sarah, is secretary of the corporation, while their son, James, is secretary-treasurer of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Hoffman is president and general manager of the Hoffman company which has its plant at 114 North Walnut street and a retail store at 30 West Fourth street. The firm employs 80 persons.

Hoffman still works a six-day week, coming in about 7:30 a. m. and quitting about 5:30 p. m.

But that still leaves him time for playing golf, which he likes, and for trips to the 1,000-acre Hoffman farm near Plymouth.

He is a member of all Masonic orders up to the 33rd degree, and is a member of St. John's Evangelical church.

Charles Hoffman . . . still on the job.

GOP CONSIDERS NEW MANEUVER

Crawford Republicans Appoint Three to Study Naming Election Manager.

BUCYRUS—A new maneuver in Crawford county politics, appointment of a campaign manager to handle the Republican campaign this fall, is being considered by local GOP.

To study the plan, a committee of three, E. N. Powell, of New Washington, Walter Heckenhauer, of Galion, and Foster Corfman, of Bucyrus, was appointed this week.

A finance committee has also been selected from GOP rolls and includes H. S. Siegel, H. G. McMichael, Bert Wilson, Hardin Jones, and Mr. Powell.

The executive board will meet at the courthouse Sept. 13, to make further plans for the fall campaign.

Boys Band Director Picks 18 Musicians

ASHLAND—Dr. Louis F. Pete, director of Ashland public school music and director of the All-Ohio Boys' band which will play at the Ohio state fair, Aug. 24-30, has named 18 musicians from the Ashland band to form a nucleus for the 100-piece fair band.

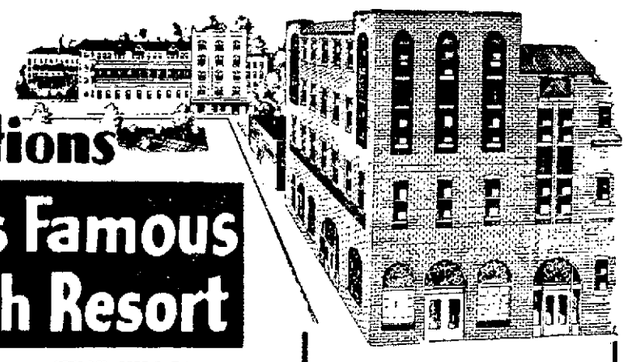
High Blood Pressure
A WARNING OF Dangerous Complications



Treated at World's Famous Health Resort

For 25 years the Ball Clinic has specialized in the treatment of Chronic Diseases. Tens of thousands of people suffering from these diseases have been successfully treated.

High Blood Pressure "THE KILLER" leads to tragedy in an extremely high percentage of cases when proper treatment is not used. It may be associated with stroke, paralysis, hardening of the arteries, Bright's Disease, Heart Trouble and many other complications. Since it is the nature of the condition to grow steadily worse until properly treated, you cannot hope to escape the consequences by ignoring it or depending on ineffectual treatments.

In addition to the foregoing, there are usually many other disorders of the system and diseases associated with High Blood Pressure. It is almost invariably an indication of a complication of ailments—so complicated in fact, that few doctors understand it or know how to treat it successfully. It is an unfortunate fact that many doctors sincerely believe High Blood Pressure to be definitely incurable.

Yet, we have found that in the entire field of chronic ailments, very few that will respond more favorably to proper treatments than High Blood Pressure.

Aside from drugs that temporarily reduce the blood pressure, the usual recommendation is rest in bed. Both of these procedures are for relief of symptoms only and in no way have any value in correcting the condition. Neither is a cure.

To successfully treat High Blood Pressure, it is necessary to understand the real nature of the ailment—the underlying causes and how to administer the proper treatments to correct them. Then, and not until then, can you resume your normal activities. Unless you do take steps to correct High Blood Pressure it is a constant threat of sudden death or paralysis from stroke.

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS HEALTH WATERS

A bounteous nature has provided here in Excelsior Springs, within a half-mile radius, a greater variety of mineral waters than in any other mineral water Spa in the world. Health seekers from all parts of the world in ever-increasing numbers are confirming the startling stories of almost miraculous recoveries to be found in these waters. Above is a sketch of a mineral water pagoda located on our own grounds.

HOME TREATMENTS USUALLY PROVE FUTILE

The old style method of treating High Blood Pressure by periodic resting in bed or by the use of drugs or medicines at home usually proves futile because the sufferer is merely treating the symptom, not the causes or diseases that led to the development of High Blood Pressure.

There are many serious conditions that will cause High Blood Pressure, a few of which are Systemic Acidity, Systemic Toxemia, Enervation, Hardening of the Arteries, Kidney Disease, Ductless Gland Failure. These conditions can only be detected by the most highly skilled clinical examination. The sooner you avail yourself of a complete clinical examination and the kind of treatment your condition requires—the sooner you will be on the road to better health.

FREE DIAGNOSIS AND EXAMINATION

On your arrival here we first make a complete examination without charge. Each doctor who examines you is an experienced specialist in his line. There is absolutely no charge for this examination. You are told frankly what treatments you need and what it will cost. YOU DECIDE THEN WHETHER OR NOT YOU WILL TAKE THE TREATMENTS WE ADVISE.

LOW COST TREATMENT

The cost of treatments varies according to the severity of your case and the recommendations that you select. We will always advise you the cost of treatments.

MARILYN PEAT WEDS HOWARD J. MARKLEY

Double Ring Ceremony Performed By Rev. Herbert Garnes At St. Luke's Church Sunday.

IN A DOUBLE ring ceremony yesterday afternoon Miss Marilyn Marie Peat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Peat, 307 Bartley avenue, became the bride of Howard J. Markley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Markley, Mansfield, R. D. 4.

The ceremony was performed at 2 p. m. at the St. Luke's Lutheran church by Rev. Herbert S. Garnes. The bride was given in marriage by her father before the altar decorated with palms, ferns, beauty baskets of multicolored gladioli, and two seven branched candelabra.

Mrs. Fred Cahall was organist. Her selections included "Serenade," Schubert; "Indian Love Call," Triml; "Dreams," Wagner, and the traditional wedding marches. Emerson Beltz, soloist, sang, "Because," D'Hardelot; "I Love You Truly," Bond; "O Promise Me," DeKoven.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a tight fitting white taffeta bodice with a high sheer neckline and a peplum over a full illusion skirt with a long train. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, gift of the groom. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a lace Dutch cap with clusters of pearl orange blossoms at each end.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Edward West, sister of the bride, who was attired in a lemon yellow gown of net over taffeta. Bridesmaids were the Misses Mary Kathryn Stevenson, Virginia Osbun, Mary Lou Yeager, and Beverly Briner. Two bridesmaids wore blue gowns, and two wore pink. They were made alike with a tight fitting bodice and full net skirt with ruffles at the neck and waist. Their short veils were attached to halos matching the gowns.

The attendants carried arm bouquets of pink gladioli and blue asters with matching streamers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Peat wore a powder blue two piece suit with eyelet trimming and white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in an aqua crepe dress with black accessories and gardenia corsage.

Glenn F. Markley served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Weldon Lemon, Andrew Gottfried, jr., John Gottfried, and Edward E. West, brother-in-law of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 100 guests in the church parlors. The bridal table decorated with white candles and multicolored gladioli was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

When the couple left for a motor trip through Canada and the eastern states, the bride was wearing a blue gabardine suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple plans to make their home in Columbus where the groom will attend Ohio State university.

The former Miss Peat is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and has been manager of the Fanny Farmer Candy shop. Mr. Markley graduated from Madison high school and Mansfield Business school and is a veteran of three and a half years in the navy. He has been employed as an electrician at the Ohio Brass company.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Cleveland, Elyria, Toledo, Port Clinton, Willard, New Haven, Walkerton, Ind., Lima, and Bowling Green.

CIRCLE MEETING.

Members of the Chautauqua circle held their August meeting at the cottage of Mrs. A. O. Widders, near Bellville. A covered dish dinner was served at noon and games were played following dinner. The next meeting will be on September 12 with a picnic at North Lake park.

COUPLE UNITED

Idella Eberhart Weds Rex G. Wilcox Sunday.

Rev. Albert Linder, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, performed the wedding ceremony of Mrs. Idella Eberhart, daughter of J. A. Copland, and Rex G. Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Wilcox, on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The double ring marriage vows were repeated before the decorated mantel in the bride's home. Attendants to the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff M. Copland, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

The bride was attired in a dressmaker suit of dove grey with a corsage of red roses and gardenias. Black accessories completed her costume.

Mrs. Copland wore a suit of a darker shade of grey with accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and baby breath.

Mrs. Wilcox, mother of the groom, wore a dress of a delicate shade of rose, with a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the bride's home. White candles, surrounded by nosegays of pink roses and baby breath, were used as the bridal table decoration, as was the two tiered wedding cake.

The couple left for a wedding trip through the Southern states. Upon their return they will be at home at 523 Louise avenue.

Mr. Wilcox attended the university of Iowa and is associated with the Maize Tire company of Columbus.

Gravel Gertie Weds B. O. Plenty

A wedding of interest to Mansfielders was performed yesterday at 11 a. m. by a county judge in the entrance of Sunny Dell Acres, before a group of intimate friends of the bride, Miss Gravel Gertie, and the groom, B. O. Plenty.

Musical selections played during the ceremony included "O Promise Me", "I Love You Truly" and "Jingle, Jingle Sooper Soap."

The bride wore a white gown fashioned with a high round neckline, long sleeves ending with a ruffle of lace and a long train. Her veil of lace, was fashioned from a curtain. It was a heirloom piece brought from Sicily by the grandmother of her employer The bridal bouquet was of red roses with short stems

Miss Tess Truehart served as maid-of-honor wearing a street length dress made with a white skirt, black blouse and worn with a wide red belt. Her blue hat was adorned with red and white flowers.

Dick Tracy served as best man to Mr. Plenty.

Immediately following the ceremoney, the groom left for temporary residence (we hope) at the County Jail. His bride will remain at home.

The former Miss Gertie has been employed by a flower shop, while Mr. Plenty is an agriculturist.

SWASHBUCKLER . . . A dashing fall silhouette from the "14-karat gold" collection of Laddie Northridge. Off-face profile hat with crown of turquoise felt, black brim and gold medallions and cord.

COCKTAIL CASUAL . . . Pale pink felt in a ten-gallon style sombrero designed for wear by women who like to keep their glitter careless. Banded in jeweled strips of gold sequin mesh studded with pearls.

BRIDAL SHOWER GIVEN FOR ANNA JANE LLOYD

First in a series of showers for Miss Anna Jane Lloyd, bride-elect of Ralph Hanno, was held Saturday afternoon at a 1 p. m. luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. S. Prewitt, 522 Cline avenue.

Associate hostess was Mrs. Eldon K. Johnson. Luncheon was served at small tables decorated with red and white flowers. Miss Lloyd received a shower of linen gifts from the 14 guests.

Bridge was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Avery Hand, jr., Miss Betty Walters, and Mrs. Howard C. Ripper.

Miss Lloyd and Mr. Hanno will be united in marriage at an open church ceremony on Sept. 14 at 2:30 p. m at the First Presbyterian church with Rev David N. Roller officiating. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Lloyd, 214 Euclid avenue, while Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hanno of Shelby are the parents of Mr. Hanno.

WCTU MEETING.

The Iota Sigma WCTU and All American club had a joint meeting Friday night at North Lake park with the Frances Willard chapter members as guests. Rev. Grover Davis led the devotions while talks on temperance were given by Rev. Richard Staub and J. W. Kline. Mrs. Allen Stoner gave a vocal solo and Mrs. Laura Curtis of Galion gave a talk on "What Will America Be in the Future?" A reading on "Defeat" was given by Mrs. Cora Neibarger. Mrs. J. H. Stattler and Mrs J. W Waddell also participated in the program.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gutekunst, 13 West Williams avenue, have left for a two-weeks' vacation at Mackinaw, Mich.

* * *
